Senate Committee Summons Him—Wants to Clear Up Whether They Were Offered to Him.

BORAH WANTS MONEY REPAID TO SINCLAIR

Mellon to Appear Tomorrow to Explain His Four Years' Silence Concerning $50,000 Bond Deal.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Will Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1926, and William M. Butler, who managed the G. O. P. national campaign in 1924, have been summoned before the Senate Committee on the Teapot Dome scandal.

Efforts of the committee will be turned to finding out what became of the $50,000 which Hays gave Hays in the form of Liberty bonds.

One of the points which the committee will seek to clear up is whether Hays ever offered any bonds to Chairman Buller.

Butler is expected to be asked to repeat under oath information contained in a telegram he sent last night to Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Montana, committee president, in which he denied ever receiving any bonds or contributions from Hays or Sinclair.

Hays, who testified that he never received any bonds or contributions from Hays or Sinclair, is expected to be asked to repeat under oath information contained in a telegram he sent last night to Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Montana, committee president, in which he denied ever receiving any bonds or contributions from Hays or Sinclair.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Sherman Johnson, 20-year-old George Washington University student, who slashed his wrists and throat with a safety razor blade early Saturday morning, is reported today at Gallinger Hospital to be out of danger.

Johnson first slashed his wrists after leaving a fraternity dance. His wrists were bandaged and he was taken back to the fraternity house where later he gained his neck.

J. E. O'NEIL KEPT BUSY DODGING OIL SUBPENA SERVERS

Officers Expect Him to Keep Out of Way Until Teapot Dome Committee Adjourns.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch from New York World.

CANNE, France, March 12.—As James E. O'Neil, wanted by the Senate Teapot Dome Committee to testify as to what he knows about the Continental Trading Co. Ltd., of Canada, has taken even greater precautions this week than ever to conceal his hiding place, it is highly probable that process servers will reach him before the adjournment of the present sitting of the committee.

But when the danger of being served in time to appear before the date of adjournment is passed, O'Neil is expected to appear open and at his Cannes villa for the first time in many months. Even though another subpoena is issued, O'Neil is likely to know about it in advance, as he and Henry L. Blackmer, who is hiding in Paris, have always shown a precise knowledge of Washington's proposed moves.

"Ad" for Missing Witnesses. Officials published an advertisement in the Paris edition of the New York Herald-Tribune asking for information as to the missing witnesses present whereabouts. A photograph and description are published. The advertisement is signed by Alice J. Borens and Owen J. Roberts, the Government's special counsel in the oil case.

O'Neil's son, Wayne, who had been seen in Bordighera until three weeks ago, also has disappeared.

Process servers who traced O'Neil to the Miramar Hotel in Genoa, from which he directs his business interest, through the National City Bank of New York, have never got any assistance from the bank in hunting their man. In fact, they seem to have had little assistance from Washington.

The size of this new fund also is considered significant. The "Liberty bonds" purchased by the Continental out of its profit on the oil case, 4 Western Oil fields' deals aggregated $2,000,000.

The "Oiler special" account is much larger than was accumulated during a shorter period. This is said to indicate that the deals involved were larger and more profitable.

It is understood that while the Senate committee plans to continue uninterrupted by the testimony of Hays and the executor of the Pratt estate, it will press forward vigorously to investigate this new fund and discover fully where it came from and who got it.

Commenting today on the suggestion made by Senator Borah, Sinclair Nye said he believed the Sinclair donations should be returned.

"It looks like a hopeless task, however," the New York Herald said, adding that he could not see from what source the money might come.

Order Firm's Explanation of New York Oil Fund.

TORONTO, March 12.—The firm of Oiler, Hoskins & Harcourt said today that the account of J. E. O'Neil, found at the New York branch of the Dominion Bank of Canada by investigators for the Senate Oil Committee, was for purposes of purely routine market transactions.

The transactions, it was explained, involved purchase for investment of shares of an American oil company, H. S. Oiler is in Central Africa.

Supreme Court to Rule on Another Oil Transfer by Fall.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Another naval oil reserve controversy, arising out of the acts of Albert B. Fall as Secretary of the Interior, will be passed upon by the Supreme Court, the Government today being granted a review in a case against the Standard Oil Co. involving title to a part of Naval Reserve No. 1 in California.

President Taft, in September, 1912, withdrew the land, which had been granted to California for public school purposes, and made it a part of Naval Reserve No. 1.

California, however, in January, 1919, had patented the land to the Standard Oil Co. and others. Notwithstanding that act it had been officially classified as oil lands by the Government in June, 1920, it having in July, 1920, withdrawn it from Agricultural entry. Secretary Fall, in June, 1921, decided in favor of the oil company.

$1,156,000 OF PROFITS OF FAKE OIL CONCERN STILL UNACCOUNTED FOR

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 11-25 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—DISPOSITION OF $1,156,000 of the $3,000,000 in Liberty bonds bought with the profits of the Continental Trading Co. Ltd., of Canada, still is a mystery. The Teapot Dome Committee so far has definitely traced $1,924,000 of the bonds as follows:

Hidden by H. M. Blackmer in safe deposit vault when he fled to France, $750,000.

Surrendered to his molested stockholders by James E. O'Neil, the other fugitive witness, $150,000.

Paid to H. S. Oiler, Toronto attorney, nominal head of the Continental company, $200,000.

Sent by Harry P. Sinclair to Albert B. Fall, as a bribe for Teapot Dome lease, $125,000.

Given to Will Hays by Sinclair in 1921 for Republican deficit, $75,000.

As Sinclair gave Hays $250,000 of Liberty bonds, among which the $75,000 from the Continental were included, the investigators now are seeking to learn if the entire $250,000 did not originate with the Continental's corruption fund.

Sinclair, Blackmer and O'Neil have been proved to be partners in the Continental. The identity of the fourth partner is yet to be discovered, as Col. Robert W. Stewart of Standard Oil, James A. Patten and John T. Pratt, the fourth oil man who sat in when the Continental was formed, denied he received any of the bonds.

not be identified as coming from the Continental Trading Co. Only a part of the bonds, for example, which passed through the hands of J. E. O'Neil, have proved to be Continental bonds.

G. O. P. Deal With Sinclair Assailed by Senator Robinson

Oil of Indiana and Mr. Sinclair as a director of the American Petroleum Institute?

"The latest chapter in the story so humiliating to the country is that Mr. Sinclair's efforts to corrupt were not confined to cabinet officers and captains of industry but extended also to the national political organizations of the Republican party, whose administration first permitted, then aided and abetted, the infamous plunder of the public and the shameful prostitution of its agents and servants.

"Mr. Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, 1926, and in that capacity responsible for a large deficit in the party funds in an orgy of spending scarcely exemplified in the history of partisan institutions, retained $150,000 as a contribution from Mr. Sinclair.

"Mr. Hays secretly received $50,000 in Liberty bonds from that source. They were first-class securities, readily marketable, and he easily could have disposed of them for cash on the market.

"When Mr. Hays called on Mr. Mellon for the bonds, he explained the transaction. The package contained, as nearly as I can remember, $50,000 in Liberty bonds.

"What was the purpose in thus attempting to dispose of the bonds? They were first-class securities, readily marketable, and he easily could have disposed of them for cash on the market.

SIDENER OVERRIDES ACTION OF ADVISORY BOARD

Setting Aside of Murder Case Bond Indicates Breach of Trust by William Geist.

A rift between Circuit Attorney Sidener and William Geist, chief clerk and bondsmen in the murder case obtained by Geist in announcing his intention of running for election to a second year term, Sidener emphasized his intention of managing the campaign.

Today he went from his office to Judge George Reider's Court of Criminal Cases and announced:

"I understand that William Geist told you the charge in this case was second-degree murder."

"He did," said Judge Geist. "The charge is first degree murder, and a warrant was issued last night for his arrest."

On Sidener's motion, Geist was released on a $25,000 bond, approved Friday in the court. Geist's representatives, and the defendant's, were in the courtroom this morning and looked on as the court adjourned.

ing, it appears that he was asked whether Mr. Sinclair had contributed more than $75,000 to the Republican committee deficit of 1920 and he answered, "No." His testimony now discloses $85,000 in Government bonds in addition to the $75,000 contribution, making a total of $160,000.

The Deal With Mellon.
"Fifty thousand dollars in bonds received from Mr. Sinclair were sent by Mr. Hays to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who, it appears from his statement, was asked for a cash contribution of that amount. The method pursued by Mr. Hays prompted suspicion on the part of the Secretary. Mr. Mellon stated: 'Subsequently, Mr. Hays telephoned me one day that he was sending me by special messenger a package containing valuable documents and that he would see me shortly and explain the transaction. The package contained, as nearly as I can remember, $50,000 in Liberty bonds.'"

"When Mr. Hays called on Mr. Mellon and explained the transaction the latter returned the bonds to Mr. Hays and made a cash contribution of $50,000."
"When before the committee recently the former chairman of the Republican campaign committee testified that $50,000 of the bonds were sent to Mr. Upham, $75,000 to Senator du Pont and $25,000 to the late John W. Weeks, Secretary of War in President Harding's cabinet. Why did Mr. Hays then make no mention of having sent bonds to either Mr. Mellon or to 'Butler'?"

"Who is the 'Butler' referred to in the memorandum in the testimony of Mr. Hays on which appeared the names of Weeks, 'Andy,' 'Butler' and du Pont? When will Mr. Hays divulge the whole story? Will he contradict or corroborate the testimony of Secretary Mellon? How can he restore himself in the public confidence and respect, or relieve the party he represents from the odium of having sold itself to the despisers of the nation?"

SIDENER OVERRIDES
ACTION OF ADVISORS

Setting Aside of Murder Case Bond Indicates Breach With William Geist.

A rift between Circuit Attorney Howard Sidener, a candidate for re-election, and William Geist, his chief clerk and heretofore his political advisor and campaign manager, was indicated today when Sidener had set aside a bond in a murder case obtained by Geist.

In announcing his candidacy for election to a fourth year term, Sidener emphasized his intention of managing his own campaign.

Today he went from his own office to Judge Gayer's division of the Court of Criminal Correction and announced:

"I understand that William Geist told you the charge in the Cox case was second-degree murder?"

"He did," said Judge Gayer. "The charge is first degree murder, and a warrant making that charge was issued last week." Sidener continued, with some heat:

On Sidener's motion, Judge Gayer canceled a $25,000 bond he had approved Friday in the case, and Geist's representations, and ordered the defendant released.

The case is that in which William Cox, 4101 McKee avenue, was charged Wednesday shot and killed a next-door neighbor, Harry Paul, a quarrel over a dog, is charged with murder. He was arrested this morning and locked up, awaiting the Court's order.

MOTOR MOTORS ROLLING HARD TO GET OUT OF HOLE

New Officers Elected After Drop in Value of Concern's Stock Held by About 800 Persons.

OVERHEAD IS CUT; PICKUP IN SALES

Auditors Preparing Financial Statement; List of Assets Given by President Reiderer.

Guy Wilson, president, and Sherman H. Dorsey, vice president, of Victor Motors, Inc., have resigned, complying with the wishes of the Board of Directors. New officers were elected in an effort to pull the company out of financial difficulties.

Wilson, after a high-pressure career in St. Louis as insurance salesman and promoter of two motor car companies, has gone to California for his health. Dorsey has entered the fire equipment business here.

Growing dissatisfaction with the results of Wilson's conduct of the business figured in his resignation. The company, organized under Delaware laws in 1923, had a paid-up capital of $500,000, but paid no dividends. Last year it sold only about 200 trucks. Some of these trucks had been displayed to impress prospective purchasers at stockholders' loss in $250,000.

Shares of stock were sold at $10, which is considerably more than the present value. The drop cannot be determined exactly, as the stock is a "watered stock," an estimate of the stockholders' loss in $250,000. The stock is held by about 800 persons, mostly of German descent, who are hanging on to it in the expectation the truck business—particularly the Victor Truck business—will pick up.

Shares at Varying Prices.
Some shares have reached the market and have been offered at varying prices. Harry C. Barker, director and general counsel for the company, today said a broker recently offered him $4 a share for the stock and he refused to sell.

He said speculators seeking to acquire the stock occasionally obtain shares at 25 cents and offer them for sale at 75 cents or $1, trying to force the price down and frighten holders into selling.

Auditors are preparing a financial statement of the company's affairs, according to the new president, Edward Reiderer. One of Wilson's chief failures, Reiderer said, was his refusal to prepare a statement of the company's affairs.

Pending completion of the audit, Reiderer said, he will submit the following assets for five hundred thousand dollars, value of the company's equipment at Twenty-fourth and Locust streets and McCausland avenue, East St. Louis, subject to $10,000 mortgage; $100,000 stock; $50,000 trucks on hand; $50,000 cash; Victor Motors; and patterns, good-will and other intangibles.

Block selling of Victor Motors was directed by Wilson from his office in the Arcade Building, St. Louis. The company's plant, at Twenty-fourth and Locust streets until moved to East St. Louis three years ago.

New Management's Progress.
Since the new management took office last month, the overhead has been reduced from $10,000 a month to $2500, and 60 trucks were sold last month as compared with only one for all of last year, it is said.

East St. Louis plant employees in assembling the trucks, the company has dealers in 14 states and 13 foreign countries.

The association of Wilson and Dorsey with the old Traffic Truck Co., which went bankrupt, was a point which militated against the new management. The eyes of the Victor directors, Wilson and Dorsey held the same views with Traffic as with Victor.

Both the Traffic and Victor companies used a talking point by competing salesmen, it is said, the salesmen telling a truck prospective buyer that the Traffic had gone bankrupt and that the same might be expected of the Victor.

The Traffic Truck Co., organized by Wilson, had a meteoric period of prosperity, declared a stock dividend of 50 per cent in 1920 and got into difficulties in 1922. It had called some $500,000 of its paid-up capital and it could not meet its obligations and to get out of its difficulties it joined with several other independent companies in the Associated Motor Industries, which had a year later.

GANGSTER'S BONDSMEN
PAY TAXES ON $15,000

Yet Judge Butler Accepted J. J. Mestres and J. J. Kennedy on $50,000 Bond.

Inquiry today by the Post-Dispatch at City Hall disclosed that Joseph J. Mestres and John J. Kennedy, Democratic politicians, are paying taxes on only $15,000 worth of property, although in signing a $50,000 bond for a Cuckoo gangster last Friday they "qualified" as owners of more than four times that much.

Mestres is chairman of the Democratic City Committee and Kennedy is a former Committeeman. Mestres is clerk and Kennedy is Constable in Justice of the Peace Edward Rice's court. Judge Butler, who accepted their bond, is resigning this week as a member of the Republican City Committee, to be succeeded by his father-in-law, "Hank" Weeke.

Not Put on Oath.
Because of his personal acquaintance with Mestres and Kennedy, Judge Butler, who serves in the Court of Criminal Correction, did not require them to make a sworn statement of their property holdings. However, his recollection of their oral statements to him is that Kennedy claimed to own $40,000 and $25,000 worth of property, and Mestres claimed $25,000 worth.

Kennedy last year paid taxes on three pieces of real estate, assessed at $12,120, and of $100 personal property, and Mestres paid taxes on one parcel of real estate assessed at $2670 and on $200 personal property, the total of their taxable properties being $15,080.

Won't Cancel Bond.
Judge Butler today said he had no intention of canceling the Mestres-Kennedy bond. "In the first place," said Judge Butler, "I believe a $50,000 bond is excessive in this case. If Raymond Tipton, the alleged robber, who is in the place of bond, had appealed to the State Supreme Court, he probably could have obtained lower bond."

"I didn't require a sworn qualification from Mestres and Kennedy, as I knew them personally and took their word. I would rather have those two men on a bond than some qualified bondsmen I know signing bonds around here."

When Mestres told the police he was asking for a $50,000 bond, I told him he couldn't sign a bond for that amount. He admitted that, but said he would get Kennedy to sign too. I understand 'Briney' Kennedy recently inherited about $60,000 from a brother. The figures in their tax returns don't mean so much, as property is only taxed about 50 per cent of its actual value."

Why Big Bond Was Asked For.
Tipton, the gangster bailed by Mestres and Kennedy, was out on bond in a burglary case, when he was identified in a holdup, in which police, after conferring with Circuit Attorney Sidener, insisted upon $50,000 bond.

"It's not my fault Tipton got out," Sidener said. "I tried to keep him in jail. I realized $50,000 was an excessive sum, but he probably would be reduced by the Supreme Court. My intention was to keep Tipton in jail until we could indict him for robbery."

Tipton is a brother of Roy Tipton, gangster, now in prison with "Dinty" Colbeck and others for mail robbery. Colbeck was a member of the Democratic City Committee.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 12.—A plane fell near San Jose Mission here last night, killing Graves Mosely, 26 years old, a passenger, and seriously injuring Harvey Howard, pilot. The accident ended an instructional flight, according to J. Q. Alexander, owner of the plane, who said Howard was teaching Mosely to fly. Witnesses said Howard apparently mistook lights of a carnival attraction for those of the landing field.

Says Diet Fads Endanger Women Trying to Reduce
Dr. Morris Fishbein Includes "Beauty Surgery" Among Popular and Expensive Modern Forms of Witchcraft.

Dietary fads and incompetent "beauty surgery" are among the most popular and expensive modern forms of witchcraft, Dr. Morris Fishbein of Chicago, asserted in an address on "Fads and Quackery" last night at the Liberal Forum of the Y. M. H. A.-Y. W. H. A. Dr. Fishbein, a former St. Louisan, is editor of the American Medical Association's Journal and author of two volumes on "The Medical Follies."

"The index file of quackery in the records of the American Medical Association contains more than 125,000 cards representing various forms of quackery that have produced shakels from the pockets of 'American credulity,'" he said. "The cures for cancer, for tuberculosis, for venereal diseases and for the other complaints that afflict mankind are legion, and new cures constantly appear upon the horizon."

Faith Healing "Hot Air."
"There are at least 7 cults of religious healing, to all of which the magical word 'science' is somehow attached. There are magnetic cults, faith healing cults, electric cults, mechanical cults, nature healing cults, dietary systems, and hot air treatments—if all of those that precede cannot be classed to the one named last. "Practically all of the records of recovery credited to any of these fraudulent systems or devices may be classified as faith healing, curing the victim of a disease that does not have, or acting as a placebo while the natural healing powers of nature carry the afflicted one to recovery."

"In recent years, dietary fads, weight reduction and plastic surgery have developed proportionately with the tremendous bill for cosmetics used by American women. The dietary fads have to do with a complete lack of knowledge of the physiology of digestion. Most of the emphasis is laid on the alleged dangers of combinations of elementary food substances, which dangers do not actually exist."

"The starvation treatment of disease promoted as a fad is exceedingly dangerous. It may be called the simplest method of making an easy living, since it is only necessary to put patients in an institution on a starvation treatment and charge them $10 a day for board."

Beauty Surgery a Menace.
"Beauty surgery" and not reconstructive surgery is a great menace. The advertising specialist in beauty surgery attracts unwary women who submit themselves to serious operations for which the necessity seldom exists. The inadequate training and the fact that the advertising beauty specialist cannot operate in a first-class hospital may result in infection and, as in the case of the girl operated on recently in Chicago, sometimes in the loss of limbs if not in the loss of life."

"The incompetent or dishonest physician, licensed to practice by a complacent state, is far more of a menace to scientific medicine than all of the peculiar cults and quacks that may be enumerated. Cultism and quackeries come and go, but scientific medicine progresses with a steady pace. The irregular physician who injures the good name of the profession through his abuse of the title conferred upon him by some diploma-selling college throws discredit on the name of the profession and upon its ideals."

PIRATES INTERFERED FOR YOUTH WHO ADMITS ROBBING THEM
Judge Gives William Ruecker Three-Year Prison Term on Hearing Pleas of Victims.

Two Catholic priests whom he was accused of robbing asked Circuit Judge Rutledge today to be lenient with William Ruecker, 19 years old, of 2137 Victor. As a result he was sentenced to only three years in the penitentiary on pleading guilty of robbery and two charges of larceny from the priests' houses.

The priests were the Rev. Francis A. Baumann, 2653 Ohio avenue, who was robbed of $57, and the Rev. Joseph Sullivan, 3120 Lafayette avenue, who was robbed of $25, both last Dec. 18.

Lawrence Mason, 17, of 4415 Oakwood avenue, Pine Lawn, was sentenced to five years in the Booneville Reformatory on his plea of guilty of two charges of robbery. Erwin Hall, 18, of 1032 Allen avenue, charged jointly with Mason in the $294 holdup of Joseph Gullion, druggist, 1131 Brooklyn street, Jan. 4, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

CHAUFFEUR KILLED TWO WOMEN AND GIRL, HE ADMITS

Slayer Arrested After Finding of Three Bodies at San Angelo, Tex., and Confesses Murders.

By the Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, March 12.—New Byrnes, chauffeur, charged with killing two women and a girl at San Angelo, confessed to officers here today that he killed the three persons. A quarrel about a check, which Byrnes said he had signed with the name of one of the women, preceded the killing, he declared.

The three killed were Mrs. W. J. Juergens, her daughter, Myrna, 13 years old, and her mother, Mrs. Rosa Schirra. Byrnes, who was the Juergens' chauffeur, said he had signed Mrs. Juergens' name to a check, and March 3 they had quarrelled about it. He admitted he struck and knocked her down, then cut her with a hatchet. The girl was in the room and Byrnes said he then killed her. Mrs. Schirra was killed when she entered the room. The statement to the officers said. The bodies were found Sunday.

Byrnes said he went to a hotel the night of the killing and later returned to the house and covered the bodies of his three victims. He then ransacked the dwelling, took $40 and some jewelry and left San Angelo. He visited various parts of the State, arriving here Thursday. He was at the home of friends of the Juergens family when arrested on advice telephoned from San Angelo yesterday.

BREAKS 30-DAY NON-DRIVING PLEDGE; GOES TO WORKHOUSE
Negro Identified in Court as Speeder Who Had Promised: Two

Taken into Police Court today in an automobile collision case, Raymond Shaw, Negro, of 1818A Biddle street, was recognized as a speeder who violated his agreement to stop driving for 30 days. Judge Rosecan sentenced him to the workhouse for 10 days.

Shaw is the second man Judge Rosecan has sent to the workhouse for breaking the agreement since he started the practice eight months ago of giving speeders a choice between the workhouse and a period away from the wheel.

That was Walsh, 4124 Manchester avenue, took the pledge today to refrain from driving for 30 days. Edward Murphy, 829 South Ninth street, agreed to quit driving for 45 days, rather than go to the Workhouse for speeding.

The customer was shaving when the messenger brought the pearls and he drew them out to examine them.

Pressing his admiration he placed the necklace in a metal box on the washstand, finished dressing, excused himself while he went out to get the money for payment and never came back. At 20 minutes the messenger looked in the metal box and found it empty.

2 SEARS-ROEBUCK
RETAIL STORES TO BE OPENED HERE

Department Establishments Will Handle Company's Varied Lines at Catalogue Prices.

Two retail department stores to handle the varied lines of merchandise of Sears Roebuck & Co. at catalogue prices, are to be opened in St. Louis this year. The investment in ground and buildings, it was announced here today by representatives of this Chicago house, will be $2,000,000.

One store will front on the east side of Kingshighway, a short distance south of Easton avenue, and the other will be at the southeast corner of Grand boulevard and Winnebago street.

Although new in the St. Louis field, Sears, Roebuck & Co., which does a large mail order business, has retail stores in various other cities and the establishments here will bring the number to 23. Two each are being erected now in Boston, Detroit and Cleveland. Warehouse space is to be rented here.

Opening in the Autumn.
R. E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., who made the announcement, said ground would be broken here about the middle of April and the stores will be opened in the autumn. The sites were bought through the Francis Realty Co. The place on Grand boulevard for 30 years has been the home of John Weir, tobacco manufacturer. George Nimmons & Co., Chicago architects, are drawing the plans. Frontage of the Kingshighway store will be 261 feet, with a customers' parking space extending back to Aubert avenue. Frontage of the Grand boulevard establishment will be 200 feet, with a parking area running back to Arkansas avenue.

Accessibility for automobile, bus and trolley traffic was a strong factor in locating these stores, as was the fact that each will be in a local center of heavy population. President Wood declared that officials who chose the sites had confidence in the progress and growth of St. Louis.

Plan to Make Shopping Easy.
It is proposed to make the stores community centers, with special plans to make shopping easy for men, and with rest rooms, soda fountains, luncheonettes, beauty parlors, children's barber shops, check rooms for baby carriages and uniformed parking attendants. The present idea is to make each store three floors high, with basement, and with display windows on the principal streets.

Except for a few key positions, Wood said, employees of the store will be taken from the local market. An announcement of opening of employment offices is to be made later. A. R. McConnell, general purchasing agent of the firm, who was here today, said it had transacted a $300,000,000 business last year.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., March 12.—Lorene Jones, 16-year-old high school student, whose mother, Mrs. Christine Woodside, 34 years old, was fined $100 for whipping her, today rejected her mother's attempt to effect a reconciliation.

The girl retained an attorney to protect her interests, and declared she did not believe her mother sincere in her promise of no more whippings if Lorene returned home. "I can't help but believe she would punish me for all this if I went home now," the daughter said.

big business
There are certain advantages in dealing with large concerns. They are, as a rule, better organized and more efficient, and the distribution of overhead over a large volume makes lower prices possible.

For instance, a small tailor could not show you 30 patterns in a single line of woollens as we do in "GLEN ADDIES." He cannot import direct as we do, but must buy from an importer, or a jobber.

It is only by cutting out these intermediate profits, and by organization methods, that we are able to price "GLEN ADDIE" suits at only $60. Under other conditions you would probably have to pay $20 or $30 more for like quality.

GIRL FLYER IGNITES CLOTHES TO TEST FIREPROOF LIQUID

Suzanne Biget Says Discovery Will Save Aviators—Heat Spoils Demonstration.

VINCENNES, France, March 12.—A young aviatrix, Suzanne Biget, has discovered what she declares is a non-inflammable compound which will protect the pilots of a blazing plane long enough for them to make a landing.

To prove the efficacy of the liquid, she donned a flying suit and hood and then sprinkled alcohol over the suit and set it afire. She soon blazed like a torch. The combination may have been fireproof, but it did not keep out the heat and within 30 seconds Suzanne was screaming for help.

Four soldiers beat out the flames.

Smiling, Suzanne doffed the "fireproof" clothing and announced she would try again. The "fireproof" clothing is steeped in her compound.

SALES TACTICS ASSAILED
Warnings against sales misrepresentation were issued today by Kenneth W. Hood, manager of the merchandise division of the Better Business Bureau. Hood received complaints that representatives of a fire extinguisher company, calling on owners of rooming houses, gave the impression they were official representatives of the city.

Another complaint was that representatives of foreign firms, selling sample tool steel, packing and similar supplies, used measures and notations unfamiliar to American purchasing agents, the result being that the salesmen obtained orders for quantities larger than intended by the purchaser.

SECOND VICTIM OF AUTO DIES; WOMAN NAMES DRIVER

Mrs. Julia Mann and Simon Meyer Hit by Rented Car Driven by Sylvester Robinson, Companion Says.

After killing Simon Meyer Friday night and fatally injuring Mrs. Julia Mann, 65 years old, of 6036 Washington boulevard, who died this morning at Jewish Hospital, the driver of an automobile said "leave them go" and sped west on Lindell boulevard.

This was the testimony today of Mrs. Jean Close, 4250 Delmar boulevard, before a coroner's jury which named Sylvester Robinson, alias Dan O'Neill, as the driver. A verdict of homicide was returned.

Mrs. Close said she was in the automobile, a rented Chevrolet coupe, were crossing Lindell boulevard at Vandeventer avenue when they were hit.

Brother of "Chippy" Robinson. Robinson, a taxicab chauffeur, is a brother of "Chippy" Robinson, former Egan gangster, now serving a 25-year sentence in the penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for robbery of the mails. According to court records, Sylvester Robinson was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary in 1926 for a $70 hold-up.

Mrs. Close told the jury that the driver, whom she knew as "Danny O'Neill" had been drinking and that she had attempted to persuade him to let her drive.

"I saw only the woman fall," she related. "I didn't know a man was hit. I screamed and tried to get him to stop. But he said 'leave them go' and drove on. I got out at the next stop and go signal. I haven't seen him since." Maurice L. Roos of 5636 Waterman avenue, a witness of the accident, said the coupe was going 35 or 40 miles an hour west on Lindell.

Shortly after Meyer and Mrs. Mann had been run down, the automobile was returned to the rental agency with the radiator damaged and the right headlight broken. The car had been rented on the account of Gus Jackson, 1915 Blair avenue, who told police it actually had been taken out by Robinson.

A coroner's verdict of accident was returned this morning in the death of John Symons, 65 years old, a bartender, of 2811 Ruiger street, who died Saturday at city hospital of injuries suffered last Tuesday. He was struck by an automobile driven by Thomas A. Wichman of 134 East Cleveland avenue, St. Louis County, as he ran across Jefferson avenue at Ruiger street to board a street car.

A man who said he was John Cleveland, 224 South Fourth street, was found dazed in the 800 block of North Commercial street at 8:30 a. m. today, suffering from a fracture of the left leg and internal injuries. He told police he had been run down by an automobile near Twelfth and Franklin avenues, the driver of which stopped, placed him in the machine and said he would take him

CHARGES RAILROAD TRIED TO RUIN COAL FIRM'S BUSINESS

General Manager of Ohio
Concern Tells Senate Committee of Pennsylvania's Tactics.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 12.—
Charges that the Pennsylvania Railroad had sought "willfully and maliciously" to put the Roseville Coal Co. out of business were made today before the Senate Committee investigating the bituminous industry by Thomas Sagie of Roseville, O., general manager of the company.
He testified the railroad had purchased coal from his firm for years, while the mines were operating under union labor, but that in 1925 had withdrawn a mining lease from his mines for no apparent reason. This occurred, he said, after a conversation he had in Chicago with Henry Owens, purchasing agent for the Pennsylvania.
In that conversation, Sagie testified, the purchasing agent said the railroad "would not pay a price for coal to any operator which would make possible paying salaries in accordance with the Jacksonville wage agreement."
Tells of Anti-Union Threat.
Chester Penrod of Crooksville,
O., president of the Robinson Coal Co., said he had received similar word from the Pennsylvania Railroad through Owens, adding that Owens later had called him by telephone from Chicago and said the railroad would buy no coal from his firm unless it posted notices at the Tipton that the United Mine Workers would be recognized in no way.
Penrod said his firm did not post the notice and that the mines were closed about April 1, 1927.
Answering Senator Wheeler
(Dem.), Montana, Penrod said
Owens told him the Pennsylvania Railroad was "tired of contributing to the United Mine Workers," and that "he had received orders for his action in Philadelphia."
C. B. Heiserman, attorney for the Pennsylvania Railroad, said brought out that Penrod was at one time a member of the United Mine Workers.
Lewis Accuses Railroad.
At the opening of the investigation, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, charged the railroad had tried to break the union and nullify the Jacksonville agreement in order to reduce fuel prices.
Sagie said 95 per cent of the Roseville company coal had gone to the Pennsylvania Railroad for the last 10 years, but no sales had been made since they were forced to close in 1925.
Frank J. Bender, Zanesville, O., secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers' Branch in that area, testified he had been told
"time and time again" by Penrod
of assertions by the Pennsylvania
Railroad's representatives by him that they would "contribute no longer to the damnable trust, the United Mine Workers of America."
The witness said there were 13
mines operating in Eastern Ohio
now under union contracts which pay the Jacksonville scale, and that 10 other mines have signed the agreement, but are not working.
"From what I learn," he told
Senator Wagner (Dem.), New York, "none of these mines now sell coal to the railroad, even though some of them used to."
Says Business Firms Fail.
"If the railroad would pursue the same policy they pursued prior to the strike of April 1, 1927," said Bender, "the business and industrial depression in the vicinity of Zanesville and Cambridge, O., would be alleviated."
He said many business failures had been caused in that region by closing down of the mines.
William F. Holden, operators' attorney, questioned Bender concerning a circular letter addressed by
Ohio operators to the miners Jan.
28, 1925, asking for a conference
Feb. 8 to discuss a wage scale. The union representative denied the letter had been received by officers
empowered to act for the union.
Belden then told Senator Wheeler that many miners had gathered for the conference "but were restrained from attending the meeting by State officers of the union."
Bender said Gov. Donahoe of Ohio had sought to get the union and the operators' representatives to confer but the latter had refused.
Wheeler asked Bender whether the Ohio operators had declined to confer in Washington the request of Secretary Davis of the Labor Department, and received an affirmative reply. The attorney added that evidence to explain that refusal would be entered later.
To Hear 50 More Witnesses.
Chairman Watson sought to find how long the hearings would continue and was told by Henry Warren, union attorney, that more than 50 witnesses remained to be heard.
"It isn't a matter of time, but of eternity," returned Watson.
This brought Lewis, the miners'
leader, to his feet with the declaration that the matter was not one for levity "because 52,000 miners throughout the country are looking here to Washington for something to be done in their interest."
Watson assured Lewis that every witness that the union desired to have heard would be given the opportunity to appear.

Mine Workers' Branch in that area, testified he had been told
"time and time again" by Penrod
of assertions by the Pennsylvania
Railroad's representatives by him
that they would "contribute no longer to the damnable trust, the United Mine Workers of America."
The witness said there were 13
mines operating in Eastern Ohio
now under union contracts which
pay the Jacksonville scale, and that 16 other mines had signed the agreement, but are not working.

"From what I learn," he told
Senator Wagner (Dem.), New York, "none of these mines now sell coal to the railroad, even though some of them used to."

Says Business Firms Fail.
"If the railroad would pursue
the same policy they pursued prior to the strike of April 1, 1927," said Bender, "the business and industrial depression in the vicinity of Zanesville and Cambridge, O.,
would be alleviated."

He said many business failures
had been caused in that region by closing down of the mines.

William F. Belden, operators' attorney, questioned Bender concerning a circular letter addressed by
Ohio operators to the miners Jan.
28, 1928, asking for a conference
Feb. 8 to discuss a wage scale. The union representative denied the letter had been received by officers
empowered to act for the union.

Belden then told Senator Wheeler that many miners had gathered
for the conference "but were restrained from attending the meeting by State officers of the union."
Bender said Gov. Donahy of Ohio
had sought to get the union and
the operators' representatives to confer but the latter had refused.

Wheeler asked Belden whether the Ohio operators had declined to confer in Washington at the request of Secretary Davis of the Labor Department, and received an affirmative reply. The attorney added that evidence to explain that refusal would be entered later.

To Hear 50 More Witnesses.
Chairman Watson sought to find
how long the hearings would continue and was told by Henry War-rum, union attorney, that more than 50 witnesses remained to be heard.

"It isn't a matter of time, but of eternity," returned Watson.
This brought Lewis, the miners'
leader, to his feet with the declaration that the matter was not for levity "because 132,000 men throughout the country are depending here in Washington for their to be done in this country."

OSAGE RIVER POWER PROJECT IS OPPOSED

Protest Made at Hearing on Request for New Permit; Union Electric Studies Plans.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—Hearing of the application of the Missouri Hydro-Electric Power Co. for an extension or reissuance of its permit to build and operate an electric plant as a part of a proposed hydro-electric project on the Osage River, near Bagnall, opened today before the Public Service Commission.

The company's permit from the commission for the establishment and operation of the electric plant was issued on Jan. 26, 1926, for two years. The application for an extension or issuance of a new permit was filed on Jan. 26 last, the day the permit expired. The project has been at a standstill for months, due to investigation of it by a Federal grand jury in Kansas City.

Walter Cravens of Kansas City, president of the power company, and also of the defunct Joint Stock Land Bank of Kansas City, and several of his associates are under Federal indictments for alleged diversion of the bank's funds in land manipulations involving the power project.

The Union Electric Light and Power Co. of St. Louis is considering taking over the project and building the power dam and electric plant, if an engineering survey, now under way, shows it is feasible. The survey is being made by Stone & Webster, construction engineers of Boston who, with a New York banking firm, hold liens on most of the Missouri Hydro-Electric Power Co.'s property for funds advanced.

A protest against renewal of the permit was filed by Leonard Franklin, presiding judge of the Camden County Court; the Linn Creek Community Club, and several individual property owners, on the ground that a large amount of property would be destroyed, and Linn Creek, the county seat, be submerged, if the dam were built. It was charged the power company had failed to exercise its permit for the electric plant in the two years after it was granted and was not entitled to an extension. The power company was declared to be insolvent and not financially capable of carrying on the enterprise. It was charged that misrepresentations had been made in acquiring property for the project, and that its construction would be against public policy. The license for construction of the power dam was issued by the Federal Power Commission.

EARTH SHOCKS FELT IN SICILY

Small Quakes on High Spot Opens and Smoke Issues.
By the Associated Press.
CALTANISSETTA, Sicily, March 12.—Light earth shocks were felt here this morning. Their duration was only a few seconds, and little damage was done. (Caltanissetta has a population of about 45,000.) At Piazza Armerina, situated at an elevation of 2400 feet, the earthquake caused the opening up of small cones, from which smoke issued.

TWO BROTHERS HELD FOR $175,000 FRAUD

Arrested in Atlantic City on Charges of Stock Swindle in Canadian Cities.

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 12.—After having been trailed through the entire eastern section of the United States following their escape from Canada last fall with $750,000 which they were alleged to have obtained in a swindle, two men were arrested in a hotel here yesterday.

They are Ira Janie, 32 years old, and Milton Janie, 29, brothers, who gave their address as New Rochelle, N. Y. They were held without bail pending a hearing in connection with a request for extradition to Canada.

The Janie brothers, police said, operated in Toronto last summer and fall as the Toronto Security Co., dealers in stock securities and bonds. Through a chain of branch offices, alleged to have been conducted throughout the province, the company specialized in recommending brokers to wealthy clients and also in trading stocks and bonds held by these clients.

Pair Leaving Steamer Arrested for $140,000 Swindle in Hawaii.
SAN PEDRO, Cal., March 12.—John C. Gilbert of Chicago and Harry Goodwin of Los Angeles were arrested when the pair disembarked from the liner Oakland from Honolulu yesterday. They were held at the cable request of Hawaiian authorities.

The officers said the two men were accused of having been connected with a $140,000 swindle in which Thomas Needham, wealthy Englishman, was the victim. Both men denied any connection with the alleged swindle.

Gilbert and Goodwin were formerly with a circus which visited Hawaii last month.

BLACKMAILERS ELUDE POLICE
Fail to Claim Dummy Package Placed to Trap Them.

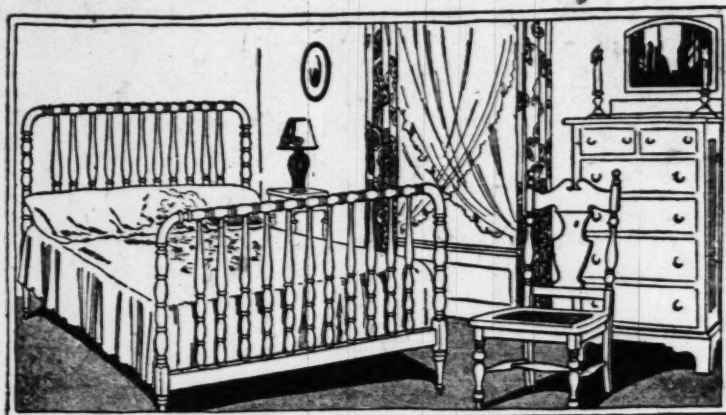

Repeated demands for money, under threats of death, were made on Charles Dietz, 4416 Kingshighway S. W. He was directed to leave a sum of money in an old stove in a lot at Taylor and Lee avenues. After consulting the police he left a dummy package in the stove.

Two detectives in concealment watched the package Saturday night and early yesterday. No one appeared to claim it.

No one is safe!

Boothblack, nurse, artist or society debutante—every one of us, no matter who we are, may offend unknowingly

BODY ODOR...why we can't tell when we offend

BODY odor always betrays—but seldom warns its victim. You know yourself that though you notice instantly the faintest hint of odor in others—the guilty ones usually remain unaware of giving offense.

Why? Simply because once an odor becomes familiar to us, our own sense of smell becomes deadened to it. Very often, this misleads even fastidious people into thinking they are safe—while actually they do offend.

Isn't it just as possible, then, that at times we, too, may offend others—without knowing it?

Body odor plays no favorites

No one is safe from body odor. To live, we must perspire. And in cooler weather—with activities indoors, in warm, stuffy rooms—body odor is more prevalent than ever.

On coolest days, our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

This body moisture, whether visible or invisible, is always odoriferous. And no one escapes it. All of us—no matter what our position or occupation in life—may offend unless we take precautions.

No need to risk embarrassment

Yet there is a simple way to be sure we're safe from body odor. Just wash and bathe often with the delightful toilet soap that millions enjoy—Lifebuoy—it deodorizes.

The same mild and abundant antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores.

For complexions, too, this gentle Lifebuoy lather is marvelously beneficial. It keeps skins clear and satin-smooth.

Body odor more noticeable at this time of the year—due to stuffy rooms—closed windows.

Pores give off as much as a quart of waste a day—even in coolest weather.

Now, a purifying toilet soap. Its bland antiseptic lather keeps you safe from body odor.

In millions of homes, Lifebuoy is used for every toilet purpose.

You'll like its clean scent

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

Man Killed by Train.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HOLLAND, Mo., March 12.—The body of Roy Sanders, 30 years old, of Holland, was found near the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad tracks between Blytheville and Holland Saturday. The coroner decided Sanders met death by having been struck by a train.EMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS SAID TO BE IMPROVING

National Industrial Conference Board President Reports Indications Widely Favorable.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Available information indicates that employment conditions in the country as a whole have been improving since December, even though public attention was first focused on the unemployment situation late in January. Magnus W. Alexander, president of the National Industrial Conference Board, said in a speech before the Fortnightly Forum.

The extent of unemployment in the United States cannot be measured because of the lack of adequate statistical data, Alexander said. He characterized the claim that mechanization of industry is responsible for unemployment as a generally unwarranted contention. "As mechanization of industry, with its requirement of fewer workers per unit of production, decreases production costs and prices, the demand for commodities simultaneously increases and causes not only the theoretically released workers to be reabsorbed, but in addition calls new workers into production," Alexander said.

$20,000,000 in Construction Work to Aid Employment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—The necessity of speeding up the 1928 construction program of the various public utility companies in which the United Gas Improvement Co. is interested has been urged on officials of the company by Arthur W. Thompson, president, as a means of affording a measure of relief to the unemployment situation in Philadelphia and vicinity.

The budgets of the companies in which the United Gas Improvement has an interest provide for expenditure of approximately $20,000,000 for construction work of all kinds in the Philadelphia metropolitan area, in Eastern Pennsylvania, in Northern Delaware and in other Eastern states. The three principal companies embraced in the company's activities are the Philadelphia Electric Co., the Philadelphia Gas Works Co. and the Philadelphia Suburban Counties Gas and Electric Co.

The Industrial Relations Committee of the Chamber of Commerce conservatively estimates the number of unemployed in Philadelphia at present at 60,000, Thompson said. "In view of these apparently authentic figures it is my sincere belief the public authorities and private enterprises should start at once the construction programs which they have contemplated for the current year. While, in my opinion, some of the reports of unemployment are exaggerated, the situation at present existing, especially in the larger cities, is of such a character that it is the duty of every thinking citizen to open avenues of employment to those willing to work."

MILTON SHUBERT FORESEES
GRAND-OLIVE THEATER GROWTH

Executive Comments on Increased Night Crowds in Geographical Center of City.

Night crowds in the vicinity of Grand and Olive have grown to such proportions that Milton I. Shubert, who is in the city this week, compared that neighborhood today with Broadway's "Great White Way."

"A few years ago," said Shubert, an executive of the Shubert theatrical syndicate, "we gained the impression, upon our visits to St. Louis, that everybody went to bed early in St. Louis, or remained home to hear the radio."

"But now the visitor sees a vista of blazing theater signs up and down the streets, and tens of thousands of persons jamming the neighborhood, the geographical center of the city. The late Don Fishell had a marvelous foresight when 18 years ago he pioneered the Grand-Olive district by erecting the Princess Theater, which we now are using as the Shubert-Rialto. Theatrical men laughed at his idea then; now we bow to his judgment."

"The erection of the new $600,000 Fox Theater at Grand and Washington will be followed by other theaters in this district, now having six, the Shubert, Missouri, Grand Central, St. Louis, Empress and Liberty."

Shubert, a nephew of Lee and J. J. Shubert, is in his early 20s, and is one of the youngest theatrical syndicate executives in America. He has charge of the production, the direction and casting of Shubert musical road shows, including the current production "Oh, Kay," the "Student Prince," "My Maryland" and "Blossom Time."

Adolph S. Ochs 70 Years Old.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 12.—Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, celebrated his seventieth birthday today. Ochs is chairman of the $5,000,000 endowment fund of the Hebrew Union College and among those sending greetings were Alfred M. Cohen, chairman of the board of governors of the college, and Dr. Julian Morgenstern, president of the faculty.MAYOR IN CONFERENCE ON
CINDER BLOCK CONSTRUCTION

Union and Manufacturers Represented; Miller Leaves Matter to Brod and Christopher.

Opponents of the use of cinder blocks for construction purposes in St. Louis conferred at City Hall today with Mayor Miller and with city officials who are permitting the use of this material under discretionary powers in the building code. Afterwards, the Mayor told reporters, he considered the controversy a purely departmental question, in which he would not intervene.

Those present were F. J. McNamara, business agent of the Bricklayers, Stone and Marble Masons, Tile Setters and Terrazzo Workers' Union, a leader of the position on the ground of the inefficiency of cinder blocks; Jacob Stocke, president of the Progress Press Brick Co.; William Tanner, manager of the American Press Brick Co.; Director of Public Safety Brod, his subordinate, Building Commissioner Christopher, and the Mayor.

Brod and Christopher announced they would consider the objections to the blocks for several days and if, in the meantime, would defer issuing any more permits for cinder block structures. Christopher pointed out that the discussion heretofore had mentioned only cinder blocks, whereas there were other similar concrete blocks on the market which would be affected. The recent resolution of the Board of Aldermen, requesting that permission to use cinder blocks be withheld, is not binding, he added. The best way to dispose of the matter, Brod remarked, would be for the union or some other agency to ask for an injunction against the issuance of permits for the use of cinder blocks. He would not speculate as to whether he might voluntarily rule against them.

"Mineral waters of the right sort are preferable to many cathartic compounds. Their power to overcome the immediate effects of constipation is unquestioned. In their effects upon the bowel and its lining membranes they are far less irritating. Indeed, many have qualities that make them soothing and healing. Sugar-coated pills are pleasant to take, which may add to their danger. They are no less habit-forming and drastic because they appeal to the taste."

72 BODIES FOUND AFTER MOUNTAIN SLIDE IN BRAZIL

More Than 2000 Volunteers Work to Remove Mass of Dirt and Rocks in Center of Santos.

By the Associated Press. SANTOS, Brazil, March 12.—Seventy-two bodies, 49 of adults and 23 of children, had been recovered up to this morning from Saturday's great landslide at Mount Serrat. More than 2000 volunteers are at work removing the enormous quantity of dirt and rocks under which many wrecked buildings lie. It will require a week or more to dig under the mass of wreckage.

The work is handicapped by the narrow streets leading to the area overwhelmed by the slide, which is feared buried at least 200 persons, including entire families.

The possibility of further catastrophes is causing anxiety, for minor earthquakes have occurred. Many families, in alarm, have deserted their homes at the base of the big hill in the downtown section of the city.

Survivors Watch Excavation. Women, weaned by weeping and waiting, and children stood around the scene, remnants of families stricken by the catastrophe. They hoped that out of the mass of earth, crumbled walls and rocks, the rescuers would dig out friends or relatives still alive.

From the debris was taken a woman who had been buried for 25 hours in a room with the body of her husband. Several other injured persons were brought out. The authorities said little hope that many would be taken out alive. They said that the mass of earth was so great that even many of the bodies interred would probably never be recovered.

Family of Eight Killed. A man who had left his family eight sleeping peacefully returned to the place where his home stood to find it demolished and his family dead.

Police ordered a wide area around the slide evacuated and this prevented a fresh disaster when a new avalanche occurred yesterday on the opposite side from the first. Nine houses were crushed but there were no casualties.

The enormous quantity of earth which shifted hampered the work of excavators, who included all classes of people laboring side by side. Engineers estimated that, if a new avalanche occurred from the fissures which yawned above the city, it would be three times as great as that of the first slide.

The first slide was estimated at 650,000 cubic yards of earth. It was believed to have been caused by recent heavy rains which weakened the loose earth on the slopes of the mountain. A new peril was feared because of a heavy rain which fell yesterday afternoon.

Hospital Damaged. The Casino, it was feared, would be engulfed, if another slide should occur. The Hospital of St. Rosa, one of the show places of the city, was damaged, but most of the patients escaped injury and were removed to other institutions.

The entire city responded to aid the stricken. Shops were closed and their employees joined in the rescue work. Many donations were received for rehabilitation. Gov. Julio Prestes ordered that all victims be buried at the expense of the state.

ROBBER GOES TO PRISON TO SAVE PARENTS' HOME

Fugitive Surrenders to Prevent Forfeiture of House on Bond in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 12.—George "Red" Savage, convicted Pawtucket gang leader and post-office robber, is to serve 15 years in the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth—a sentence which, but for his love for his mother, might never have been meted out to him.

Savage and his gang were convicted of the robbery, Feb. 1, 1926, of the Pawtucket postoffice.

While out on bail Savage fled to Canada. Newspapers carried stories that the State authorities, working with the Federal courts, were about to declare his bail forfeited if he did not appear. His parents, with no other possessions that their home, stood to lose even that.

Savage came before the Attorney-General and said that the stories had put it up to him in such a way he couldn't stay away any longer. "I'm here to save my mother," he said.

Typist Makes Third Attempt to Cross From Spain to Africa.

By the Associated Press. TARRIFA, Spain, March 12.—Mercedes Gilet, London typist, was taken from the sea yesterday after having swum for seven hours and 49 minutes in the Strait of Gibraltar.

Starting from Tarifa, Spain, she had made good progress on her third attempt to cross the Strait until she was little more than a mile off Apes Hill on the African coast. Then the sea grew rough and the tide changed. For three hours she battled against a sea steadily growing rougher, and then was helped into the boat which accompanied her.

FULTON, Mo., March 12.—The Webster Groves High School won first place in the third annual debate tournament conducted here under the auspices of Westminster College by defeating the Moberly High School team. This is the Webster Groves' second victory in three years.

Webster Groves was represented by Harry Jones and Thomas Curtis, and took the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that a Federal Department of Education should be created, with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet." In addition to again getting temporary possession of the trophy cup, held last year by Kemper of Booneville, the Webster Groves team was given a trophy shield, and its debaters were given gold medals. Indigestion Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise. The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient. One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate.

With no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. So learn—now—why this method is supreme. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Do You Know What a Woman of 30 Should Weigh?

It all depends on her height, of course.

If she is five feet seven inches in height she should weigh according to the best authorities 143 pounds.

If she is 5 feet 5 inches her normal weight is 134 pounds.

If she is 5 feet 3 inches she should weigh 127 pounds.

It's dangerous to be always striving to grow thin—the Adirondack Mountains and health resorts everywhere are filled with health-shattered women who will tell you that it doesn't pay to be too thin.

That is why so many thousands of underweight men and women are putting their faith in McCoy's Tablets.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty-cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 3 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

UNION OFFICER KILLED IN DISPUTE OVER POETRY

Mine Inspector at West Frankfort, Ill., Admits He Shot Lee Wall.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., March 12.—An argument over Shakespearean poetry preceded the killing here of Lee Wall, an officer of Illinois Subdistrict No. 9 of the United Mine Workers of America, by Beaugard Baker, a mine inspector.

Wall died early today of gunshot wounds suffered last night in the subdistrict's offices, where he, Baker and about eight other union mine employees had gathered to discuss a riotous outdoor meeting of the afternoon.

"We were just talking things over, and I started to quote Shakespeare," Baker said when arrested. "Wall didn't like that. He said that 'stuff' was over the heads of the miners. He told me to cut out the poetry or get out. When I quoted some more, he struck me and I shot him in self-defense."

Witnesses to the shooting agreed with the account, except that they said Wall did not strike Baker, but merely shoved him. They were unable to recall the poetic lines which aroused Wall's ire.

In the afternoon 500 Southern Illinois miners had gathered here at the invitation of a "Save-the-Union Committee," which proposed to oust John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and his officers for "betraying the miners of their country." The scheduled speakers did not arrive, and when district officers attempted to speak, the meeting broke up in a row, during which the chairman, Mike Rukinan, asserted he was beaten with a revolver.

The miners met a second time in the town bandstand, but the subdistrict officers again intervened, and the noisy gathering was dispersed by the Sheriff.

PAY-AS-YOU-ENTER RULE BACK

The change to the former practice of boarding street cars at the rear door was made without inconvenience or delay yesterday, it was said today at the offices of the Public Service Co.

There were some instances of passengers grouping near the front entrance, but on the whole, it was announced, the change was made without noticeable annoyance. One now enters the cars by the rear door and pays the fare upon entering, instead of upon leaving as was done under a rule put in effect when the company was in receivership.

OKLAHOMA LIKELY TO PRESENT SOLID LINEUP FOR REED

State's 20 Delegates Are Considered Safe for Missourian Under Unit Rule.

TELLING EFFECT MADE BY SPEECHES

Dissension Among Smith Supporters Alters Situation—Klan Opposition to New Yorker Figures.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., March 12.—Whatever else may happen in the Democratic national convention in Houston, it now is virtually certain that Missouri's 36 votes for Senator James A. Reed for President will be followed closely by a Wild West "Ride him, cowboy, Oklahoma casts 20 votes for Jim Reed."

Unless there is a slip before the date of the convention, and there is now no indication there will be one, Reed has cornered the Oklahoma delegation. It may not be instructed for him, but a majority of the delegates will be Reed men and under the unit rule will cast the full 20 votes to which Oklahoma is entitled, for the Senator.

Reed's second speech in the State Saturday night in Oklahoma City, with the organization work which has been under way for the past six weeks, directed by Charles M. Howell of Kansas City has shown very definite results. Oklahoma is organized for Reed. The support of Gov. Smith of New York has been split and an active quarrel is on among the Smith following. No other candidate has any noticeable strength, though, of course, there are some followers of Senator Walsh and some of Cordell Hull of Tennessee, a member of Congress and former chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Smith loses advantage. Good politics has been played in Oklahoma by the Reed organization. The State is alive with Missourians and through their relatives and friends back home there has been created a very strong Reed sentiment. The Senator three weeks ago spoke in Tulsa, and then proceeded on a Western tour which took him to the Pacific coast, and which, as it progressed, became a tour of increasing triumph. The Reed speeches were broadcast and thus returned to Oklahoma, giving Howell an opportunity to keep Reed prominently before the Oklahoma politicians while he was working to gather together an organization of those leaders who can deliver in the various sections of the State.

When Reed first entered Oklahoma, it generally was believed that atv. Smith had the State delegation cinched. There was a Smith executive committee headed by former Gov. J. B. A. Robertson. Months ago he gathered about him some of the leading politicians of the State, and work in for Smith, he encountered little difficulty because there had been no one else actively contending for the Oklahoma support.

Jealousy in Smith Ranks. The ways of politicians frequently are mysterious. One sees the results without knowing just how they were brought about. Anyway, Howell was at work, and by the time Reed got back to Oklahoma for his second visit, there had appeared a Smith organization rivaling the Robertson club. It was the Smith State-wide Committee, headed by Judge James R. Tolbert of Hobart. The Tolbert crowd repudiated Robertson, who refused to be repudiated, and so there are two Smith organizations, a situation which is not at all conducive to harmony and which will mean nothing in delegates for Smith. Reed in his Tulsa speech halted the political leaders in their alignments. He was the same Reed who in 1922 fought his way from nothing to victory in the Missouri senatorial primary by the sheer power of his oratory and his ability on the platform to swing the people en masse. Reed at Tulsa captured the attention of Oklahoma, and through Howell's organization work there was formed the Eastern Oklahoma Reed Club, with representatives in every county of the eastern part of the State, and with Judge Harvey Maxey as president. In Oklahoma City Saturday there was formed the Western Oklahoma Reed Club, covering the western half of the State, and with V. P. Crowe, an Assistant Attorney-General of the State, as president. There is included in the organization Randall S. Cobb, commander

NATURE'S process of new forms of life is up 15,000 per cent by of X-rays at Washington

This, "the most spectacular of recent years in biology," began a year ago by Dr. Muller of the University of California and last December won the $1000 annual award of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Dr. Hanson, professor of Washington University, a visit to Europe last summer to lecture on his experiments, spent months with Prof. Muller, turned recently to devote research to this line. The common fruit fly, which infests garbage, has become a benefactor of the human race in this formerly insect that the phenomenon of change have been hundreds of the tiny, carefully tended in rows of pint milk bottles in Prof. laboratory, coddled in a temperature cabinet and their favorite yeast from

Biologists hold that of such mutations, as P. son explained today, life to such tremendously forms as the orchid and asophor. ## THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress or reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Isn't Worried About Radio Monopoly.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I BELIEVE that the life of the Radio Commission should be prolonged. I would be pleased mightily if the Commission would create a special no-land, say above 1200 kilocycles, and place therein all of the stations giving inferior programs and engaged in direct selling. There they could herd together each other, play phonograph records, and sell fruits and automobile tires to their hearts' content.

At the same time I believe the stations rendering superior programs, whether they belong to a chain or not, should be given clear channels of a generous width, together with increased power, which is the only known remedy for that warm weather enemy of the radio state.

Personally I am for the chains, only wishing there were more of them. The immense superiority of their programs is sufficient justification for the few minutes of advertising they inflict on us. I can think of only one independent station in the Middle West which offers programs that are on a par with the chain programs, that station being WGN.

The widespread presentation of chain programs will ultimately mean a great saving in the radio public's pocketbook, since the owner of a small set will have at his command as good entertainment as that available to the owner of a high-powered set with a wide reception range.

As to the radio monopoly, why get excited? I have always thought that in a regulated monopoly we have our best solution to the problems of production and distribution.

Examination for Auto Drivers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WE HEAR of a movement now being considered by our Traffic Committee to control pedestrian as well as vehicular traffic. One clause of this plan, which gives a person crossing the street right-of-way over an auto by making hand signals, seems well. But what assurance has this person that some of these brainless speed maniacs are going to abide by this plan when there are no traffic cops around?

Every auto driver should be made to undergo a rigid examination, both physical and moral. Few individuals with the proper training will leave their conscience and good judgment behind by taking crossings on the fly. When we have the traffic signal tell them they have the right to kill.

PEDESTRIAN.

Heflin Versus Darrow.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE thought has occurred to me that perhaps the two old parties have outlived their usefulness. I think we could have a prohibition party and a constitutional party. The former could nominate Heflin and Willis, and the latter Darrow and Butler. This would make the issue clear and distinct, and would end the "Heflin-Darrow" era of the drys. It would insure the overwhelming election of Darrow, who would respect the Constitution and the Government idea as indicated and created by Washington. The prohibition party, which was enacted by electing any dry under any circumstances and it will be repealed by electing any wet under any circumstances. There is no other way.

W. J. SHEA.

The Woodsie Case.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

REFERRING to the case of Mrs. Woodsie sentenced to jail for punishing her daughter: If more mothers had the strength and courage to do the same there would not be so many bad girls today. I am speaking from what I know to be a fact. My daughter was also a wayward child and when corrected would say that I was old-fashioned. Today she would thank me if I had been so. She has fallen into disgrace and pulled the whole family with her. She has broken my heart, and I am doomed to an early grave. If the young men of today were housewipped instead of sending them to prison for crime, there would not be quite so many crimes. This is a terrible age, the children rule their parents and the consequence is "Spare the rod and spoil the child."

A BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER.

For an Elevated Railway.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WHY not build an elevated railway from downtown Clark avenue west through the Union Station sheds to the point 4000 West Van Buren, then enter, Manchester and Chouteau meet? Not less than five car lines meet here on a street not wider than 60 feet. Five car lines should make a pretty good feeder for any elevated. If advisable, extend the elevated west on Chouteau to Kingshighway to connect with Taylor line.

Another elevated should be built running in a northwesterly direction, say along Easton with a terminal at Union, Crestwood bus line should be established to give the people who live between the elevated a chance for quick transportation. Ten miles of elevated would not cost so much that St. Louis could not afford it. Start with elevated lines, don't wait for a ride underground. Our good friend, the underground, will give it to you before our city fathers will have the chance to do so.

WALTER MILLER.

THE ST. LOUIS TAX RATE.

It is not to be expected that either political party is going to advocate an increase in the property tax rate of St. Louis. Mayor Miller went about as far last week as anyone in politics is likely to go when he called the attention of the Board of Estimate to the comparatively low per capita property tax paid in St. Louis.

The Post-Dispatch has several times pointed out that this is at the bottom of our municipal ills. The city has not enough money to do the things done by other cities of its class. It is a matter which should be taken up outside of politics and brought to the serious attention of the people. There is a disposition to think that higher taxes would be a hardship, but that can easily be disproved. Cities that collect a much higher property tax than St. Louis pays are reaping a corresponding wealth because they are progressive. They spend money to make money. It is an axiom of business, and the government of a big city is essentially a business. Here are the per capita property taxes paid in American cities, as given in the census reports:

Boston	$59.60
Pittsburg	58.15
Cleveland	53.51
New York	53.04
Buffalo	52.14
Detroit	52.01
Chicago	50.77
San Francisco	42.94
Philadelphia	42.81
St. Louis	32.82

To increase the tax rate it would be necessary to alter the State constitution. This can be done only by the vote of all the people in the State, a process requiring legislative authorization. There is, of course, the alternative of increasing the assessment. The levy of $2.50 on each $100 of valuation reached the limit a few days ago when one cent was added for interest on the $57,000,000 bond issue. The rate for interest and sinking fund on the public debt will be hereafter 27 cents on each $100 of valuation. Thus, $12.75 goes for general municipal purposes, 65 cents for schools, 3 cents for interest and sinking fund on the public debt, 13 cents for the State, and 8 cents to the Public Library, Art Museum, and Zoo.

The comparative assessed valuation of St. Louis shows no such disparity as does its per capita property tax. Here are the figures from the 1927 census reports:

New York	$14,837,821,953
Philadelphia	4,198,256,382
Detroit	3,394,533,510
Cleveland	2,168,243,440
Boston	1,929,921,709
Baltimore	1,818,880,682
Los Angeles	1,723,188,625
St. Louis	1,157,869,052

This table shows the St. Louis valuation to be low, but it is not greatly unlike the valuation in other cities. It is the limitation upon the tax rate that must be increased. The assessed valuation will inevitably rise as the city grows, but the tax rate will continue at its present level until there is a civic movement to increase it. There is almost nothing of more importance to the growth of St. Louis. The Post-Dispatch again calls the serious attention of the community to this unfortunate situation.

NOT YET THE LAME DUCK'S SWAN SONG.

A combination of standpat Republicans and Tammany Democrats in the House has beaten the Norris-White resolution to abolish the lame-duck session of Congress. A decisive majority supported the proposal which, however, failed of the required two-thirds by 35 votes.

The history of this resolution is well known. The Senate has passed it four times. The House has consistently smothered it until finally compelled to act.

The purpose of the resolution is well known. It would end the anachronism of electing a House of Representatives in November which is unable to assume its legislative duties until December of the following year, or thirteen months later.

It would abolish the present practice by which men repudiated at the polls continue to serve in a legislative capacity. These are our "lame ducks." As such they are frequently subservient to an administration which may, or may not be in public disfavor. As such they frequently are rewarded with fat appointive places.

It is in this short, or "lame duck" session that filibusters are easily organized and maintained to the grave detriment of public business.

The school of sordid politics, in which both Democrats and Republicans are matriaculated, has again triumphed. Its victory, we believe, is a mere postponement. Ultimately the Norris resolution will reach the people for final judgment. When it does—to mix the metaphor—it will be the lame duck's swan song.

The gentlemen who own a majority interest in the Public Service Company bought control of the then United Railways on the basis of $40,000,000 for the entire property. In that negotiation the theory of reproduction new never so much as chirped.

OUR AMERICAN PEERAGE.

The occasion was a dinner of the Bar Association of New York City. The toastmaster in presenting the guest of the evening said:

If we had the customs of other lands, he would long ago have been elevated to the peerage. We would have started him perhaps as Baron Oliver. Then later we would have made him the Earl of Manhattan. He would have been a peer of the realm, better than that. He long since became a member of high distinction of the fine aristocracy of public service—the American peerage. We have watched him, some of us carefully, all with fascination. The title that he holds is the proudest title that any American can hold because it is a title to the esteem and affection of his fellow-citizens.

The toastmaster was Charles Evans Hughes. The guest of the evening was Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

Mr. Hughes, it may be recalled, was once lauded extravagantly by Anti-Saloon League leaders for declining to represent a client who contested the constitutionality of the eighteenth amendment in the Supreme Court.

Mr. Hughes as a prohibitionist believes in the eighteenth amendment. As a citizen he recognizes the public service and individual worth of Gov. Smith and has appraised the official and man in a notably fine and generous tribute. The prohibitionists who are defaming Al Smith might learn splendid things at the feet of Mr. Hughes; they might but they never will.

INNOCENTS AT HOME.

Some of those who belabor the derisive Mencken because he dislikes our disposition to swallow almost anything that is laid out to us think the worst misfortune that could befall us would be for us to lose our almost childlike belief in many things which are beautiful even if they are not exactly true.

There is, of course, something to that. Not very much, surely; but we have just seen what happened to the hardbitten Harry Sinclair. As a people, we should be something softer than that; but not credulous enough to believe more than is good for us. We ought not, for instance, to believe that Will S. Hays, whose meteoric career has thrilled us all, is so dumb as he would have us believe he is; or that James A. Patten, the Chicago wheat king, is the boob he would have us think he is.

As a matter of fact, we should know, as we probably do, that these men are smart enough to stand at the head of two mighty big classes and are no more foolish than foxes are. On or about December 1, 1923, Sinclair gave Hays a package containing $250,000 worth of bonds. This happened in New York, but Hays could not remember where. He could not recall whether it happened at the Empire Trust, or in the Pennsylvania Tunnel, or Central Park, or possibly somewhere else. In truth, wherever it did happen the doors and windows were locked, the transom closed, the edges of the floor searched for telephone wires, and the keyholes plugged up. Yet Hays, despite all this melodrama, did not remember where it happened!

Patten was worse. He is a bear-like man, rugged, hard, bold, clever. It takes brains and iron to carry out a corner such as he manipulated in wheat, to outgame all the other h-men, and at last to lift out millions where they were afraid. There are few pictures in our civilization comparable to those stirring masterpieces in which somebody like Patten, his great paws dripping gold, walks out of the wheat pit over the bodies of those who are more ashamed than dead. Yet Patten did not know there was crookedness going on in the Republican National Committee. He only "wondered" about the bonds sent to him by Fred Upham. He was told that if he sent the Republican committee a check for $25,000 he could sell the $25,000 worth of Liberty Bonds which the committee sent him.

"It mystified me," he said. That is, the committee could have sold them for more in New York. Why were they not sold in New York? That was where he sold them.

"At a premium too," he said. "I never did understand it until I read the testimony here the other day," said Patten before the committee investigating the oil scandal. What innocents they are! And will anyone who believes these cock and bull stories kindly stand on his head?

Is General Motors going to set a new record for sustained flight?

MR. SMITH'S OPINION OF THE SENATE.

Mr. Frank L. Smith has a very low opinion of the United States Senate, to which he is again aspiring after being twice rejected. Says he:

No one is exempt from either slander or libel in the United States Senate—no one from the President of the nation to a prisoner in the penitentiary—except members of the club.

Unfortunately, the report of the Smith speech contains no bill of particulars, but he is undoubtedly trying to make the people of Illinois believe that he himself was the victim of senatorial slander.

The Senate does not think Smith is fit to sit in that body, and this opinion is based upon Smith's own acts. The main charge against him is that, while holding office as chairman of the Illinois Public Utilities Commission, he accepted a huge campaign contribution from Samuel Insull, public utility magnate. In other words, while serving a semi-judicial body he put himself under heavy obligation to a man whose interests come under the jurisdiction of that commission. It is as though a Judge accepted campaign funds from one of the parties to a suit that was being tried by him.

It is this that constitutes the so-called slander that was perpetrated by the Senate upon Smith. If it be slander, let us have more of it. Smith may succeed in bedouling the issue before the voters of Illinois. But the real issue in the Smith case continues to be: "Are seats in the United States Senate purchasable?"

Which side will Col. Lawrence join in Arabia?

ARMANDO BORGHI.

The Nation directs attention to the case of Armando Borghi, who came to this country from France as an accredited journalist. Borghi, an Italian, is an avowed opponent of Mussolini and Fascism, and has written several books exposing the Fascist reign of terror. In March, 1921, the Fascist burned Borghi's home in Milan. In June, 1927, a Fascist spy in this country, one Macchini, filed a report against Borghi with the immigration authorities and he was sent to Ellis Island for examination. That examination developed that Borghi, to use the words of the Nation, was "a champion of liberty, a lover of humanity, a passionate rebel against Mussolini's tyranny."

There was a time when America welcomed such men to its shores. This land was the asylum for refugees from political persecution and the tyranny of kings and conquerors. It was once a subject of prideful comment that our government aided in releasing the great Hungarian patriot, Louis Kossuth, from a Turkish prison. We even sent a warship for Kossuth and he was enthusiastically welcomed to our shores. The United States was then, in truth, the land of the free and the home of the brave, and to it the oppressed everywhere looked for succor and sympathy.

What we have come to since is graphically illustrated by the outcome of the Armando Borghi case. Unless something happens between now and March 23 to change the decision of hide-bound bureaucracy, Borghi is to be deported from our shores. He is not to be sent to France whence he came, but he is to be sent to Italy and thus delivered into the hands of his enemies, the Fascists. The United States not only does not want this man among us, in spite of his long battle for the freedom which we supposedly symbolize, but it is consigning him to an Italian prison or execution chamber.

There are people over in Illinois, we feel sure, who must be wondering how a high-minded, honor-bringing citizen such as Frank L. Smith says he is would want to mingle in the low, vicious company of the United States Senate.

The Making of Artificial Rubber

How German Scientists Vied With Nature and Succeeded in Producing Rubber as Good as Hers — And How the Commercialization of Their Brilliant Achievement Has Been Deferred Because of the Slump in Natural Rubber Prices.

PROFESSOR EBNER in Kolnische Zeitung Republished from the Living Age

AT the principal session of the meeting of the Society for Promoting German Chemical Industries, held at Frankfurt last November, Geheimrat A. von Weinberg announced that the process developed by the German Chemical Trust for manufacturing artificial rubber was practically perfected. The synthetic rubber already been made for patents covering this process, and measures have been taken that assure the successful commercial production of synthetic rubber at an early date. This rubber possesses all the qualities of natural rubber, and the cost of making it can be reduced to a point that will enable it to compete to advantage with the plantation product. This sensational communication at once focused public attention upon a problem that has occupied our chemists for decades, in producing isoprene in importance only to the liquefaction of coal. Indeed, so far as actual money values are concerned, it is perhaps the meisteest nut that the industrial chemist has hitherto tried to crack. Shortly before the Great War the world's annual output of rubber was about 100,000 tons, valued at one-quarter of a billion dollars. Today it exceeds 600,000 tons worth about one half a billion dollars, while the articles manufactured from it are easily worth three times the latter sum.

EVEN though chemists have not definitely determined the ultimate molecular structure of rubber, they know enough about it to proceed with assurance toward its synthesis. The process has been a most tempting goal because it promises a fortune to the lucky discoverer. Two technical problems are presented—to discover (1) a cheap method of producing isoprene in quantities, and (2) a simple process for combining the isoprene molecules into a larger molecular complex—what is called in chemistry polymerizing.

Obviously some cheap and abundant material must be found from which to obtain isoprene on a commercial scale. The substances which chemists have employed in their laboratory experiments for this purpose—primarily turpentine—were therefore ruled out of consideration. Turpentine costs almost as much as rubber itself, and the source of its supply are threatened with exhaustion even before those of natural rubber. Other raw materials, like starch, alcohol, and fuel oil, from which isoprene and related substances were manufactured in Germany during the World War, were equally out of the question, since they would make the final product too expensive. In a word, the manufacture of synthetic rubber encountered the same obstacles that originally faced the pioneer producers of synthetic indigo. They were too difficult for an individual investigator to overcome, and could be surmounted only by a combined attack, backed by unlimited resources, such as a great established chemical industry could deliver. Millions of dollars and the labor of a whole corps of skillful scientists were required.

THUS it was that the research laboratories of two of our giant chemical enterprises, the Elberfeld Dye Works and the Baden Aniline and Soda Factory, took up the task. They first succeeded in producing rubber on a commercial scale from isoprene. On September 11, 1909, a patent for this process, which marked the dawn of the artificial-rubber era, was granted to the Elberfeld Dye Works. Its specifications read: "A process for the production of synthetic rubber consisting of heating synthetic isoprene with or without the addition of substances accelerating polymerization to a temperature below 250 degrees centigrade." The perfecters of this process were the two chief chemists at that time connected with the Elberfeld Works—Fritz Hofmann and Carl Coudane. The first of these gentlemen described at length, in an address before the Freiburg Chemical Society in 1912, the difficulties to be overcome in producing isoprene in large quantities. The original source of so many important chemical compounds, provided the two investigators with a substance from which, through the intermediary of creosol—a substance closely allied to carbolic acid—isoprene could be produced by a round-about way in commercial quantities. Not long afterward the chemists of the Baden Aniline and Soda Factory isolated from crude petroleum a new compound containing five atoms of hydrogen, which they called pentene, and which could be converted into pure isoprene by a series of chemical transformations.

ALTOGETHER, prospects seemed to be bright for the early production of synthetic rubber at a cost and a scale that would enable it to replace natural rubber as completely as synthetic indigo has replaced natural indigo. But just when this golden vision was on the verge of realization a slump occurred in the plantation-rubber market that dashed the hopes of the ground. Prices fell from $7 a kilogramme in 1910 to one-fourth of that price in 1914, and to 15 cents a kilogramme at the present time. This decline was due to the rapid extension of rubber plantations in the East Indies and the adjacent mainland of Asia, so that cultivated rubber almost completely displaced the wild rubber in Brazil and Africa. With great difficulty, and with the utmost privacy, seeds of the beeva tree had been smuggled out of Brazil by Englishmen and Dutchmen, and had been planted in Ceylon, the Malay States, and the Netherlands Indies, where they thrived exceedingly. After a brief period of pioneering, the new trees seemed to come into bearing all at once. In 1905 62,000 tons of wild rubber and 145 tons of plantation rubber were marketed. Twenty years later less than 20,000 tons of wild rubber and more than 470,000 tons of plantation rubber entered industrial consumption. It is estimated that many plantations can be made to pay when rubber is 50 cents a kilogramme. This is a price with which synthetic producers have not yet been able to compete.

LIGHT LYRICS FOR WINTER WEATHER.

It may be fault of memory that speaks of pleasing haze
Upon the singers and the songs we hear in other days.
Yet lovers of good music say the same
Remains unmatched by any of our present boastful time;
I never heard of Reszke's voice, so vibrant and so strong.

I cannot mourn the loss of that who seemed an angel's song
In his prime, while in that state of mind, you will wonder how you could ever love the creature.
As matter of fact, he has utterly passed on for the moment. Now, suppose the rubber industry, which is a scientific, analytical attitude, view your friend as an integrated whole, see him all together. Suddenly, he is all understanding and love, all back and, and this because of his personality, which is a living thing that you loved.

How pleasant of an evening, when my eyes were twenty-one.
To hoist one foot upon the rail and boys were done.
Discussing trade and politics—what could he hear?
If one but paid attention as one should, a glass of beer.
And then, as I remember, when the evening was alone.
The country's fate was settled, and the lion's cage, on a tight rope
As an assistant to the man who was taking his girl away

Of Making Many Books

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

A Humane Biography

By Andre Maurois.

(Appleton.)

It is at once a matter of wonder and of rejoicing that the biography of a man is not seized upon by the psycho-analytical method of our moment before the writer of first-rate power and talent, like Andre Maurois, declined to elaborate a theme so rich in human

What a mean mess, indeed, some sniffing, "scientific" biographer could have made of this little Jew's story! The process which this could have been done is simple. Such a biographer has to poke about in the chosen personality for psychic mechanisms that, in one form or another, he can be found behind all the most human efforts; and having found those mechanisms, he has only to play them up strongly, ig-nor everything else, whereas it is the very thing that really matters.

The method is not unlike that of some professed but misguided

phre who, undertaking to explain the beauty of a lily, should poke about the roots of it and, finding some traces of a familiar barnyard fertilizer there, should feel it moment upon himself to disseminate the world as to the beauty of the lily by explaining the chemical action of the barnyard fertilizer.

What the psycho-analytical biographer and novelist do not understand is that analysis, being a process of taking things to pieces

as yet be used as a method for interpreting a living thing. The moment a living thing is taken to pieces, it dies, since it lives only by the virtue of being organic. The reason, science is powerless to interpret a personality, though it may furnish some materials for interpretation. It is only through the process of art, which is a process of sympathetic synthesis, that human personalities can be interpreted truthfully. That is why our so-called "realistic" fiction is ridiculous. It takes human personalities apart, displays the pieces which are dead, and can not put them together again.

A familiar example of the error involved in the extreme analytical process when applied to the interpretation of human personality may be given as follows: Put your self in an uncompromisingly facial, scientific state of mind and,

having done so, analyze your dearest friend, examining his traits piece by piece. While in that state of mind, you will wonder how you could ever love the creature. As matter of fact, he has utterly repugnant to the moment. Now supposing the ruthlessly factual, scientific, analytical attitude, view your friend as an integrated whole and him all together. Suddenly you will find that you love him as you flash back, and this because your living personality has been restored. For was it not a living thing that you loved?

The principle suggested in these marks ought to be kept in mind when one reads a biography.

while sharing the rich experience of reading "Disraeli" by Andre Maurois. Relatively few books of the day so admirably illustrate the importance of that principle in dealing with things human. And once the principle is well understood by the reader, he can never again be imposed upon by the drab-minded, plodding "scientific" analysts who pass for great "realists" just now.

From beginning to end of this masterly story of a life that is fashioned into a masterpiece by him who lived it, the reader cannot fail to note that behind the tireless striving of the man from boyhood to old age was a deeply wounded but courageous ego desperately bent upon making the world aware of it. That, it seems, was the source of the original impetus in Disraeli's career. He strove deliberately not merely for greatness, but to be the greatest. But what Maurois understands, and what a mere psychoanalyst would not—is the fact that the original impetus, however petty and reprehensible in itself, served to release tremendous creative powers that shaped one human life into a great work of art. It is the story of the making of that work, and that is the story that Maurois tells.

In the earlier portions of the story the reader is likely to feel little drawn to the developing character; but when the completed structure of the personality is seen at length as a whole, it will be viewed with profound admiration, not unmingled with the tenderness of affection.

Thurston Back With His Bag Full of Tricks, New and Old.

Howard Thurston came to the American Theater yesterday for a two weeks stay, bringing with him all his old tricks of magic and a few new ones, all aimed to make an entertaining two hours and a half for those who like the thrill of necromancy.

One of his new acts sends an automobile across the stage where with all its passengers it is whisked from the boards and disappears. In the show, too, are the card tricks, the Indian rope trick, escapes from various sorts of boxes and the ancient but entertaining act in which a young woman is made to appear to be sawed in half—a situation which always drew delighted shrieks from the audience.

ST. LOUIS FLOWER EXHIBIT WINS PRIZE AT LOUISVILLE

Gold Medal Given at National Show for Showing of Orchids From Botanical Garden.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 12.—The exhibit of the Missouri Botanical Garden, St. Louis, in the National Flower Show here has been awarded a gold medal. The display includes Panamanian and flowering orchids from the famous orchid collection of the garden, stag horn ferns and insectivorous plants.

The exhibit is one of the main attractions of the show, the largest of its kind in the country. Four policemen have been needed to handle the crowds in front of it. George H. Pring, superintendent of the St. Louis garden, brought the exhibit to Louisville for the opening of the show, Friday. It will remain until the show closes Sunday.

MILLARD VINCENT SCORES STRIKING SUCCESS IN "RAIN"

Hazel Whitmore Appears as Sadie Thompson in South Sea Drama at Empress.

"Rain," one of the tremendous dramas of recent years, is presented at the Empress Theater this week with Millard Vincent and Hazel Whitmore in the leading roles. Don Burroughs plays O'Hara, the Marine, with whom the audience hopes Sadie Thompson will find peace in Australia. The piece was given by this company last year.

Vincent's portrayal of the real missionary who lived the hard, cruel doctrine of Jonathan Edwards and his ilk, was excellent and consistent throughout. There was no relaxation of the exalted mood and the transition of the reformer into the sinful man, though it is accomplished in only two speeches, was done with a skill that penetrated the comprehension even of a giggling audience. Miss Whitmore has given many better performances than she gave as Sadie Thompson.

Alice Baker as the missionary's wife, Helena Shipman in a small part, Amy Goodwin as Ardena and Frank Jaquet as the trader John Horn are as good as could be wished.

Three Times—and Out.

With some reason, as yet unexplained, the movie magnates look upon the picture "Three Times—and Out" as a true and tried comedy. "Tillie's Punctured Romance" as a true and tried comedy. It has been tried twice as a matter of fact, in the past, and failed both times but here it comes up, however, perhaps, with a new twist, for it is now a comedy of the past.

"OH, KAY" PLEASING MUSICAL COMEDY

Julia Sanderson, Frank Crumit, John E. Young and Finc Chorus Make Up Show.

"OH, KAY," a musical comedy by Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse, with music by George Gershwin. At the Shubert with the following cast:

The Duke ..... Edith Greville
Dolly Ruxton ..... Marion Gardell
The Duke's valet ..... Fred Harper
Tom ..... Allan MacKenzie
Shirley McGee ..... John E. Young Constance Appleton ..... Beatrice Swanson
Jimmie Winter ..... Frank Crumit
Kay ..... Julia Sanderson
Kiki, the Domo boy ..... Helen Arden
Mac ..... George Galloway
Judge Appleton ..... Sher Camp
Judge Appleton ..... Frank Gardiner

By H. H. NEIMEYER.

A BRIGHT and fast moving musical comedy, "Oh, Kay," which came to the Shubert-Rialto Theater last night, furnished plenty of enjoyment without having the real punch necessary to put it into the class of smashing hits.

It provided bright lines for charming Julia Sanderson, who really grows more beautiful and pleasing as the years roll along, and the jovial Frank Crumit. Also it introduced no end of horse play for our old friend John E. Young but, in the main, it depended, for its success upon the dancing of the Gumbo-Hole girls, a round dozen of the precision type of hoofers who have a distinct advantage over other aggregations of the same sort in that they are all good looking—a point which is the best asset in the past in favor of good dancers.

The book, which has, at moments, some sort of a plot involving rum runners in a vague sort of which is suddenly occupied by the owner and his bride, is really a succession of wise cracks provided by Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse. Mr. Wodehouse is particularly apt at the time, while the situations grow out of the lines rather than the other way around, the result is a succession of laugh provoking smart sayings which keeps the audience in a good humor most of the time.

Miss Sanderson, Mr. Crumit and Miss Young pause for breath the dancing girls come on and everything moves swiftly. The music, by George Gershwin, long heralded in New York as the greatest of jazz composers, hardly bears out that reputation. It is tuneful but not distinctive and, at times, is rather suggestive of the work of other artists.

The Cardell sisters, Edith and Marion, succeed in looking so much alike that the effect is startling. Their part in the entertainment was to dance together, and they did it very well. Some rather amiable acrobatic stepping by Allan MacKenzie and Fred Harper round out the program.

Thurston Back With His Bag Full of Tricks, New and Old.

Howard Thurston came to the American Theater yesterday for a two weeks stay, bringing with him all his old tricks of magic and a few new ones, all aimed to make an entertaining two hours and a half for those who like the thrill of necromancy.

One of his new acts sends an automobile across the stage where with all its passengers it is whisked from the boards and disappears. In the show, too, are the card tricks, the Indian rope trick, escapes from various sorts of boxes and the ancient but entertaining act in which a young woman is made to appear to be sawed in half—a situation which always drew delighted shrieks from the audience.

ST. LOUIS FLOWER EXHIBIT WINS PRIZE AT LOUISVILLE

Gold Medal Given at National Show for Showing of Orchids From Botanical Garden.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 12.—The exhibit of the Missouri Botanical Garden, St. Louis, in the National Flower Show here has been awarded a gold medal. The display includes Panamanian and flowering orchids from the famous orchid collection of the garden, stag horn ferns and insectivorous plants.

The exhibit is one of the main attractions of the show, the largest of its kind in the country. Four policemen have been needed to handle the crowds in front of it. George H. Pring, superintendent of the St. Louis garden, brought the exhibit to Louisville for the opening of the show, Friday. It will remain until the show closes Sunday.

MILLARD VINCENT SCORES STRIKING SUCCESS IN "RAIN"

Hazel Whitmore Appears as Sadie Thompson in South Sea Drama at Empress.

"Rain," one of the tremendous dramas of recent years, is presented at the Empress Theater this week with Millard Vincent and Hazel Whitmore in the leading roles. Don Burroughs plays O'Hara, the Marine, with whom the audience hopes Sadie Thompson will find peace in Australia. The piece was given by this company last year.

Vincent's portrayal of the real missionary who lived the hard, cruel doctrine of Jonathan Edwards and his ilk, was excellent and consistent throughout. There was no relaxation of the exalted mood and the transition of the reformer into the sinful man, though it is accomplished in only two speeches, was done with a skill that penetrated the comprehension even of a giggling audience. Miss Whitmore has given many better performances than she gave as Sadie Thompson.

Alice Baker as the missionary's wife, Helena Shipman in a small part, Amy Goodwin as Ardena and Frank Jaquet as the trader John Horn are as good as could be wished.

Three Times—and Out.

With some reason, as yet unexplained, the movie magnates look upon the picture "Three Times—and Out" as a true and tried comedy. "Tillie's Punctured Romance" as a true and tried comedy. It has been tried twice as a matter of fact, in the past, and failed both times but here it comes up, however, perhaps, with a new twist, for it is now a comedy of the past.

Day by Day in Europe

By O. O. McIntyre

PARIS.

THE Latin Quarter continues to prove smiles in the same fashion as Greenwich Village. It displays its ridiculous side and the real cultural ferment stirring underneath is rarely seen. Only comic poseurs and the still-born "arty" what-nots are on parade.

The Cafe du Dome remains the Montparnasse Mecca with the terrace across the street and Le Select down the block catching the overflow. Here the boys and girls referred to at home as "studying art abroad" wear berets and smocks and pile up the saucers.

Every freak item of art finds immediate following. The young man with lathered boots and velvet hat slipping his period is a paleo-mediationist. This school will do anything in the way of actual physical effort. Sometimes they never get around to it.

The young girl with the Dutch bob who wears a robe and sandals and puffs a little cigar is identified with the neo-something or other. She makes her way through the tables of the Dome like a line-plunging full-back—not showing off, you understand, just thinking great big thoughts. And always Kiki, the Domo boy.

Two girls in mannish attire with swagger sticks and monocles debouch from the Metro. They stop as inconspicuously as matinee idols on the curb and discuss something that amuses them tremendously. They slap each other on the back man-fashion, light cigarettes and move away.

Then there are those youths with furs on their heads and pointedly who wear the wide black hats of Boulevard St. Michel. They call each other Rene, Pierre and Andre, punctuate their talk with frequent "voilàs" and "adieu"s and early in the morning check from self-sacrificing parents in Twin Oaks, Neb.

It is but fair to say all this is the "side show." Hundreds of young men and women are toiling earnestly in the attics and art schools to furnish the world with greater artistic beauty. But they are rarely seen around the Dome.

GROUND BROKEN FOR CHURCH AUDITORIUM

First Congregational to Build $170,000 Annex—Grandson of First Pastor Takes Part.

Ground was broken yesterday for building of the new $170,000 auditorium of the First Congregational Church, Wydown boulevard and University lane, as part of the morning service. It is the fourth time in 76 years since the church was established here, that a new building will have been erected for it.

The first shovelful of dirt was turned by Truman M. Post, a grandson of the minister who established the church in 1852. Others who participated in the ceremonies were William K. Bixby, honorary trustee; Dr. Lawrence T. Post, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and the three oldest members of the church, Dr. Franklin T. Knox, Joseph I. Swan and P. A. Griswold.

The first church building was at Sixth and Chestnut streets and was referred to by the Rev. Dr. Wofford C. Timmons, the present pastor, as "the mother of Congregationalism west of the Mississippi." Thence the congregation moved to Tenth and Locust streets and then to 310 Delmar boulevard, subsequently moving to its present Wydown boulevard location.

The Rev. Dr. Timmons pointed out that the First Congregational Church, situated as it now is, may be closer to the home and community life of the city than can the churches in the more congested districts.

Work on the new auditorium will begin at once.

BILL TO REPEAL HOSPITAL SITE MEASURE FOR NEGROES TABLED

Two Aldermen Voting Against Welfare Committee Action to File Report.

A bill to repeal a former one locating the new City Hospital for Negroes at Cottage and Kennerly avenues and place it in the block north of City Hospital No. 1, as advocated by the city administration, ran into difficulties today, when the Public Welfare Committee of the Board of Aldermen voted, 5 to 2, that it be filed, which is equivalent to indefinite postponement of action.

The Cottage avenue site is favored by Negro leaders. The hospital is to cost $1,200,000, which was voted in the bond issue of 1924. The present Negro city hospital is located at Lavton boulevard and Leffingwell avenue.

The two Aldermen who voted against filing the administration's bill said they would submit a minority report to the board at its meeting Friday.

Dr. Max Starkloff, Health Commissioner, appeared before the committee today and persuaded it to include two new offices in the bill for expanding the Board of Public Welfare, which was omitted in the report last week. Dr. Starkloff would have in the department an expert on epidemics and a statistician. The former would be paid $3500 and the latter $2500 annually.

most of them weighing between 200 and 250 pounds, the report said their victims were found everywhere, many of them still carrying scars from the "rough treatment" they had received.

Building Found Filthy. Relating their experience at the mines of H. F. Baker, president of the Pittsburg Terminal Coal Corporation, who protested at the inquiry here Saturday against the taking of testimony from a miner's wife in the absence of defense lawyers, the subcommittee said the operator was "surprised to learn that the committee was shocked by conditions they found" on some of his property.

Here, the members said they saw men housed in "buildings that were filthy, poorly ventilated and not fit for human beings to occupy."

Baker, the report said, had told the investigators that he had visited his properties at least once a week, was familiar with the conditions of the men, had no apologies to make, and "gave the committee to understand there would be no effort to improve the living conditions."

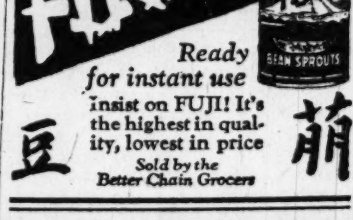

"It was at the Pittsburg Terminal mines" said the report "that the committee had found 8 or 10 men crowded into a room; it was at one of Baker's mines the committee found the stoves had been taken from the miners in the dead of winter and had only been replaced after a committee of miners had been sent to Pittsburg to protest to the general office."

Old Sores and Ulcers Can Be Healed!

Many a person has succeeded in healing stubborn old sores and ulcers with application of Peterson's Ointment after expensive treatments had utterly failed.

Here is a man well worth reading and if you have a friend afflicted the same, why not send him this?

"About a year ago, I contracted 15 varicose ulcers on my arm which rapidly grew worse. They extended up my whole arm, one-half inch deep. I used several salves, but instead of making my arm better they made it worse. Blood poisoning nearly set in. Doctors told me I would have to have my arm amputated. Finally I read about your Peterson's Ointment in the newspapers and began to use it. After several boxes I began to see an improvement, and within a short time the ulcers were entirely closed up and healed. I am glad to say a good word for Peterson's Ointment and you can refer to me any time. Mrs. Patrick O'Neill, Buffalo, N. Y. Nearly every druggist recommends Peterson's Ointment and you can get a good-sized box for only 35 cents."

NEW ANGLE IN CONTEST FOR $1,300,000 ESTATE

More Depositions Taken in Suit to Break Will of Mrs. Fannie H. Higbee.

An angle of attack by the plaintiff on the will of Mrs. Fannie H. Higbee, disposing of her $1,300,000 estate, has been disclosed by the continuation of depositions in the contest brought by Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer.

Mrs. Higbee, widow of Rufus B. Higbee, who died here Jan. 18, 1927, and her sister, Mrs. Louise H. Chapman of Detroit, shared the estate of their uncle, William R. Fye, who died in 1889, and their inheritance grew into twin fortunes by the phenomenal increase in the value of Burroughs Adding Machine Co. stock. A third sister, the late Mrs. William B. Edgar, mother of Mrs. Pulitzer, received only a $500 annuity from the Fye estate.

The plaintiff's angle of attack, in effect, is that Mrs. Edgar's children are entitled to inherit a fair share of the family wealth, inasmuch as it derives from a common source. Mrs. Higbee left $5000 each to Mrs. Pulitzer and her sister, Mrs. Gerard B. Allen of 4632 Maryland avenue, Mrs. Robert E. Whittemore of the St. Regis Apartments and Mrs. Henry H. Bennett of Detroit.

Defendants in the contest are Mrs. Chapman and her children, Benjamin G. Chapman of 58 Kingsbury place, Charles G. Chapman of Detroit and Mrs. Louise C. Bowen of Detroit, to whom was willed the bulk of Mrs. Higbee's estate, and all other beneficiaries. Questioned by defense counsel in the depositions was designed to combat the charge that the Chapman family exerted undue influence on Mrs. Higbee in their own behalf.

Charles Chapman, his mother and sister and Mrs. Jennie Pavlick, who was companion to Mrs. Higbee and now holds that position with Mrs. Chapman, who had employed her for Mrs. Higbee, have been examined. All declared they were unaware how Mrs. Higbee planned to dispose of her property and pictured family relations to show that the testator's own inclination rather than influence caused the small bequests to Mrs. Edgar's daughters.

They said that Mrs. Higbee was fond of her sister, Mrs. Edgar, and helped provide amply for her during her life, but that she was not so fond of her daughter and had a great dislike for Mr. Edgar, who died last week.

Mrs. Chapman Testifies.

Mrs. Chapman, who is 73 years old, said that her uncle, Fye, was the only father she ever knew and that she and Mrs. Higbee resided with him at his request for a long time, but that Mrs. Higbee did not stay so long. Although Mrs. Higbee talked about making her will, she did not discuss its contents. Mrs. Chapman declared, "Large gifts of Burroughs stock to Mrs. Chapman's children and a gift of $20,000 to Mrs. Bowen for a house, by Mrs. Higbee, were made of her own free will, the witness said."

Mrs. Chapman testified as to allowances to Mrs. Edgar, ranging from $50 to $250 a month, and to providing a summer cottage in Michigan for her family.

Mrs. Higbee was subject to occasional periods of pessimistic depression, but not of melancholia. Mrs. Chapman related, although she had no cause for this, but she was not mentally incapacitated thereby; the spells were most likely to occur in the spring. Mrs. Higbee was inclined to be suspicious and, when people tried to tell her what she ought to do with her money, to become indignant, her sister added.

Sold Part of Stock. Charles Chapman testified that in 1923 G. A. Buder, publisher of the St. Louis Times, and a large stockholder and director of the Burroughs Adding Machine Co., offered to buy 15,000 shares of the family's Burroughs stock. The witness said he and his brother, Benjamin, advised Mrs. Higbee to sell her holding, feeling she had "too many eggs in one basket," as the greater part of her fortune was in this stock. Mrs. Higbee concurred, and with some of the proceeds Benjamin Chapman bought other securities, as Mrs. Higbee's business agent, from the Detroit investment house of Charles Chapman, formerly assistant secretary of the Burroughs Co. Mrs. Chapman sold even more stock than Mrs. Higbee, Chapman added.

The plaintiff in the will contest is represented by Attorneys Thomas M. Pierce, John H. Overall and Samuel H. Lieberman, and the defendants by former Judge Rhodes E. Cave.

FATALLY HURT IN FALL AT HALL. Henry McInerney Succumbs Following Accident.

Henry McInerney, 54 years old, a bricklayer, died at City Hospital early yesterday of injuries suffered when, apparently, he fell down a flight of steps in the union hall at 4020 Page boulevard, Saturday night.

Police were told McInerney had been given permission to sleep in the hall whenever he chose, and it is believed he had gone there to stay Saturday evening. He made his home with relatives at 3144 Minnesota avenue.

Street Car Company Values Right - of - Way for Fares at Double Its Value for Taxes

Reported to Assessor at $820,267 Last Year, Whereas for Rate-Making it Set Figure at $1,853,443 as of 1919.

An important element in the street car fare case, pending before the Public Service Commission, is the proper valuation of private rights-of-way owned by the Public Service Company for sections of the Midland, University and other lines. The street car company is contending for a valuation of $3,341,927 for its rights-of-way, which the city asserts is twice their value.

As is known the company is seeking an increase of fare from 7½ to 8 cents, and to determine whether this shall be allowed the commission is bringing its valuation of the utility as of 1919 up to date. A week was consumed recently in presenting evidence for the company in favor of higher valuation, and hence higher return via the fare box, and for the city in favor of the minimum possible increase covering additions and natural increment. Briefs were presented by both sides Thursday and the case is in the hands of the commission.

Valuations Vary Widely.

Value of rights-of-way, in city and county, for taxation purposes, was given by Receiver Wells as $820,267 last year. The Public Service Commission valued the same property at $849,884 as of Jan. 1, 1919, although the company at that time was claiming a value, for rate-making purposes, of $1,853,443. At present, the company asserts the rights-of-way are worth $3,341,927, but the city argues value has increased in the nine-year period to only $1,645,220.

The difference in claims and their bases is a striking example of the difficulties of public utility regulation.

The method of arriving at the company's present claim of value was as follows, as shown by expert testimony of real estate men in its employ: Zones of private property abutting each right-of-way were set up, each zone of homogeneous character; a typical lot in each zone was selected and given a front-foot market value by the appraiser, on the frontage of the street paralleling the car line, based on the appraiser's knowledge of real estate and judgment;

an average depth of lots in the zone was assumed, and from this and the front-foot figure the value per square foot of the lot was calculated, and the so-called average value per square foot for the zone thus obtained was applied to the right-of-way area along that zone. The company's real estate experts admitted at the hearing that

COACH KILLEFER

TILDEN NAMED
U. S. DAVIS CUP
TEAM CAPTAIN

Former Champion Designated to Play in American Zone Competition Chairman Wear Announces.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—William T. Tilden, former tennis champion and ranking American player, has been selected captain of the 1928 United States Davis Cup team, it became known today.

Tilden succeeds C. S. Garland, who led the team in 1927.

In naming Tilden, the Davis Cup Committee, of which Joseph W. Wear of this city is chairman, the former champion was designated to play in the American zone competition.

Tilden had previously suggested that two teams should be selected, one to play in the American zone and another to go abroad for the interzone finals in case the United States should win the competition here against Japan, Mexico and Canada.

Tilden's preference, he said, was to play on the team going abroad but he added he would be willing to abide by the decision of the Davis cup committee.

This committee, considering the reported strength of the Japanese team, felt that Tilden was needed in American zone play.

Samuel H. Collow, of this city, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, has notified six other players to report to Tilden at Augusta, Ga., next Monday, March 19 for the trials for the American team. Those selected will meet Mexico in the first American zone match.

Those invited are Francis T. Hunter, George M. Lott Jr., John Hennessey, John Van Ryn, Wilmer Allison and Arr. W. Jones.

Exploiting
the Helpless Sex

Any business man who will not pay women employees a living wage should be rightly classed with other social outcasts.

When she is well paid and well treated, the woman is an industrial stimulus—a conscientious worker and an advocate of cleanliness and purity in manufacturing.

The American Federation of Labor demands hygienic working conditions, shorter hours and a fair wage for women in industry. We believe in this principle. That is just another reason why Clown Cigarettes are made by Organized Labor.

OLYMPIC SQUAD
SCORES VICTORY
OVER TRUMBULLS

Several Angelica Stars Fail to Play at Best Against Professionals—4500 Persons Attend.

By Dent McKimming.

The interleague soccer program at Sportsman's Park yesterday afternoon developed at least one conclusion: There are a lot of very promising young soccer players in St. Louis. Three of the teams involved in the double-header are amateur players, most of them under 20 years of age. Almost without exception they showed qualities necessary in good soccer players.

In the more interesting game of the two, the Tablers, champions of the St. Louis Soccer League, defeated the Angelicas, champions of the St. Louis Municipal Soccer League, by a score of 2 to 0. The St. Louis Olympic squad, also composed of public park players, defeated the Trumbulls team, champions of the University City Municipal League, 5 to 2.

About 4500 persons witnessed the games. Play might have been considerably better had the field been in more satisfactory condition. Although apparently smooth, the ground was really very uneven, a condition which made the game almost out of the question.

Several Cops Under Par. In view of the fact that the Tablers have beaten the Ben Millers by scores of 6-1 and 7-2, the showing of the Angelicas may be accepted as an indication that the Municipal League teams do not play bad football. The game was not a great deal of difference between the play of the two teams yesterday and in some positions the amateurs looked a bit better than their professional rivals. McManus, the regular center-forward of the Angelicas, was hurt in the first five minutes of play and retired at the conclusion of the first half, being replaced by Sullivan. McManus, at his best, might have converted one or more of the very excellent scoring chances of the second half into goals. Cronin was not quite up to his game, but the close covering of Halbach Benoit had something to do with slowing him up. After the outside left, lost all his time after the crowd jeered him and a couple of flagrant errors, and several prime units in the Angelica structure were out of order.

On the other hand, Sam Ducker, the big right fullback who was removed from the game by a foul, made the place of Bishoff who was injured, played over his usual standard, and Hartigan, Fink, Cloys, Hatchard and Barnard were going as well as usual. Hatchard, one of the few Municipal League players who has mastered some degree of soft passing, was not suffered to remain in the game in the second half, for some reason which was not apparent.

Tablers Get Quick Goal. After repelling a furious raid by the Angelicas in the first five minutes of play, when they forced three corner kicks, the Tablers went to work and scored a quick goal. Don Barnard made a poor job of a throw-in on the south side of the field and before he could recover, Bochnick had crossed the ball to Marre in the goal mouth and "Hap" slipped a short pass to Joe McCarthy, who planted the ball in the corner of the goal.

Form that time until the middle of the second half play was fairly even with an advantage in favor of the Tablers. By virtue of a hard sprint, Brengle reached the ball near the Angelica goal line and hooked a fast cross to Ratigan. Harry headed the ball but Klass punched it out and Ratigan made good on his second try, kicking the ball into the goal.

Joe McCarthy, Bochnick, Lee, Quinn and Benoit were especially industrious in breaking up every raid of the Angelica forwards but, as a matter of fact, there was not much that was noteworthy about the maneuvering of the amateur team. However, Joe Ducker, in goal for the Tablers, had several difficult chances, probably more difficult than anything that Klass had in the corner of the goal.

Players Try Too Hard. Coaches Finnegan, Jarrett and Amman, who have charge of the Olympic squad, used the match with the Trumbulls as another opportunity to get a good look at all players on the squad. When the Olympic team had built up a lead 2-0 at the end of the first half, the coaches sent in a flock of substitutes. The replacement troops, put to a test, seemed to try too hard, if such a thing is possible, and instead of continuing the very effective passing game of their predecessors, they turned to hard kicking and hard running and the result was a colorless, uninteresting game. The Trumbulls came fast in the second half and scored 2 goals so that the Olympic side had to score twice to win.

Why Not? On the theory that a furnace will smoke as long as it has a pipe, we offer the suggestion that a connection be established between the bottom of the furnace and the sewer and by drawing the smoke into the underground system by means of a fan or downdraft appliance, the smoke elimination problem would be solved.

Of course Mr. Brooks might object to having his nice clean sewers all cluttered up with smoke and soot, but it would be better than drawing it into our lungs and distributing it around among the lace curtains and other draperies.

How Babe Ruth's fountain pen got in the coal bin of a man up in Michigan is a mystery. Now, if it had been one of the balls Babe hit it wouldn't have been so strange as they are liable to fall anywhere.

Babe thinks the pen might have been whisked from his pocket while the train in which he was riding and a coal train were passing. Such is the power of suction. In that event, it's a wonder it wasn't found by a suction hand.

COURT FORBIDS
POLICE TO HALT
WRESTLING SHOW

Injunction Issued at Request of Promoter Joe Coffey—Lewis to Meet Alex Garkawienko.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 12.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis will wrestle Alexander Garkawienko tonight as scheduled under the protection of a court order.

Promoter Coffey obtained an injunction this afternoon enjoining members of the Illinois State Athletic Commission, and the police from interfering with the show.

Chairman Paul Pehn of the Athletic Commission had sanctioned the match while Samuel Luzzo, second member of the commission, opposed it and threatened to prevent it.

Sandow declared the trouble, which has split the two man athletic commission wide apart, was a promoter war, and asked for police protection tonight. It is the first time Lewis has appeared in Chicago since the Illinois legislative committee investigated the wrestling situation here a year ago.

Luzzo issued another statement declaring he had affidavits which would prove Lewis and Garkawienko were under the same management. Chairman Pehn, he said, had once delayed issuance of the permit to look into this angle, and later Pehn promised, according to Luzzo's statement, that the permit would be denied if it were shown that the two wrestlers had met before.

Manager Sandow admitted the previous encounters, but reported that Garkawienko gave Lewis one of his toughest matches, going two hours once to a fall.

MURIEL has all the kick I want in a cigar... and none of the regrets. Just 100% smoking enjoyment."

Training Camp Gossip

Manager Mack Picks Team for Coming Campaign — Yoter and Maguire Star in Cubs' Practice Games — Jones Pitches Well.

By the Associated Press.
PORT MYERS, Fla., March 12.—Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, today announced the make-up of his 1928 team, comprising 10 pitchers, three catchers, seven infielders and five outfielders.

His outfielders will be Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Al Simmons, Bing Miller and Walter French. In addition to these he will keep a string attached to Lebourveau, Haas and Harris.

The infielders to stick are Collins, Hauser, Bishop, Hale, Boley, Dukes and Hassler. Cochran, Perkins and Fox will hold over as catchers. The pitching sureties are Grove, Walberg, Orwoll, left handers, and Ehmske, Quinn, Rommel, Bush and Johnson, right handers. Two will be chosen from among Powers, Shores, Jonnard, Potter, Daney, Lyons and Blake.

Yoter and Maguire Star.
LOS ANGELES, March 12.—The week-end invasion of the mainland by the Chicago Cubs produced two victories over the Hollywood and Los Angeles entries in the Pacific Coast League, but the Angels made the Cubs work hard for the Sunday victory.

Percy Lee Jones proved that the elbow operation had loosened up his left arm, turning the Angels back in order in his three innings. Two of the new Cubs, Yoter at third and Maguire at second, showed Manager McCarthy some sparkling fielding.

Hard Work for Senators.
TAMPA, Fla., March 12.—De-feated in their first two starts in the grapefruit league, the Washington Senators were under managerial orders today to snap out of it in warming up for the third game tomorrow at St. Petersburg with the Boston Braves.

The only other game booked away from Tampa before the Griffith athletes start home will be played Thursday at Clearwater when the Brooklyn Dodgers are tackled.

Contests here on Friday and Saturday, with the Cincinnati Reds as guests, complete the week's exhibition card.

Three Hits for Waner.
PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 12.—Donie Bush, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates was today contemplating the ineffectiveness of the regular squad which has bowed three times before the so-called second team in practice games. The score yesterday was 11 to 3 in favor of the rookies. Lloyd Waner and Glen Wright got three hits each while E.J. Harris got a pair of two-baggers.

White Sox Win Opener.
SHREVEPORT, La., March 12.—After two postponements, the Chicago White Sox put over the first spring training game with a victory over Shreveport, 9 to 7, yesterday, but the home boys registered just as many safe blows as the Sox, and some of the new Sox players were a bit unsteady in their first formal appearance.

Manager Schalk had an opportunity to take up the misplays today for one more private workout before the Sox resume with Shreveport for three more games. Then comes a long tour into Texas.

Carriagan Likes Rookies.
BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 12.—Bill Carriagan, who manages the Boston Red Sox, thinks he has some good pitching talent in Bennett, Crenins and Morris, rookie twisters. The trio held Buffalo to seven hits at Sarasota yesterday while Carriagan watched their work from the side lines. When the teams meet again next week Carriagan hopes to have Charley Ruffing in the box. Ruffing, who has had two off seasons, is working hard after reporting late.

Brave Rookies Released.
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12.—The Boston Braves have felt the pruning knife for the first time this season and as a result Gower and Brush, rookie pitchers, and a catcher named Miller are on their way to join the Providence club. The warriors have a stiff exhibition schedule ahead but Manager Jack Stoney isn't worrying. He has told his men not to. He feels it is all part of training and shouldn't be taken too seriously.

Hot Reports at Camp.
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12.—Seeking an increase in salary and a two-year contract, Pitcher Waite Hoyt has drifted into the Yankees' camp to hold parley with Col. Ruppert in person. Hoyt arrived from Hot Springs and accompanying him were Benny Bengough, the catcher, and Stan Coveleskie, the veteran spitball hurler.

Augusta, Ga., March 12.—Die Roush, star outfielder of the Giants, has reported for spring training and notified Manager McGraw that he is eager to get going. The only absent members of the club now are Pitcher Vic Aldridge and Pat Crawford, a minor league infielder. Charles Barnes, rookie pitcher and brother of Virgil and Jess Barnes, is the first New York casualty. He was operated upon for appendicitis here yesterday.

Young Pitchers Impressed.
NEW ORLEANS, March 12.—Having won their first two exhibition contests, the Cleveland Indians today looked forward to their two-day series with the Toledo Mud Hens, champions of the American Association. Tomorrow the Indians will go to Biloxi, Miss., to play Toledo. A return game will be played at the Indians' New Orleans camp Thursday. Yesterday's 6-3 victory over New Orleans was featured by the pitching of two Tribe recruits, Mel Harder and Nap Collard. The pair held the Pelicans to a lone single in the last six innings.

East Side Promoter.
AFTER DWIGHT FRYER FOR GOLDBERG BOUT

Dwight Fryer, the Little Rock boxer who won Western A. A. U. senior championship honors a year ago by knocking out Reggie Wood in the finals, may be matched with Eddie Goldberg for one of the bouts on a professional boxing card at the Almad Temple in East St. Louis on Tuesday night, March 20.

A. G. Weissman, a newly licensed East Side promoter, announced today that he plans to book Fryer and Goldberg for a 10-round contest to share the windup position on his card with a junior lightweight event in which Ray Alfano of East St. Louis meets Tommy O'Loughlin of Belleville.

Fryer has been boxing professionally for about six months and has won all his bouts. He recently earned a 10-round decision over Bobby Jones, with whom he is re-matched for a 10-rounder at Little Rock tonight.

NEWTON 5 HOURS AHEAD OF PAYNE IN PYLE CIRCUS

English Runner Has Covered 296.4 Miles in 44:48:40—Athletes Get Chance to Cool Heels.

By the Associated Press.
NEEDLES, Cal., March 12.—Desert dust was replaced by the muddy waters of the Colorado for the some of the stars of today's abbreviated lap of the trans-continental foot race.

A few hundred feet from the starting line some 30 rowboats powered by Mojave Indians waited to transport the surviving contestants across the river. For the brief passage the runners were offered an opportunity to sit at ease and cool heels seared by the last five days of desert hoofing and perhaps to wish that the Colorado were wider than it is.

The little mining town of Oatman was the destination of today's 17 miles course, less than a third of the distance of yesterday's Danby to Needles run.

Although he came in second by a matter of five minutes in yesterday's 57 miles, Arthur Newton, 44-year-old Rhodessa road runner, held down first place in point of elapsed time at the close of the day. He had jogged the 296.4 miles from Los Angeles in 44 hours 48 minutes 49 seconds. Other leaders in the race which will pay the winner $48,500 at the New York, were Andrew Payne of Claremore, Ok., 49:32:35; Ed Gardner, Seattle, 50:32:06; Arne Souminen, Detroit, 50:32:05; John E. Cronick, Saskatoon, Sask., 51:23:25.

Cronick led the field into Needles yesterday by covering the day's stretch in 8:44:20. Olli Wanhainen, 96-pound Detroit Finnish runner, who had held a position among the leaders consistently during the earlier stages of the race, fell before yesterday's hard grind and was carried in from a point five miles out.

The leaders:

LOCAL QUINTETS ARE READY FOR TITLE CONTEST

Washington and St. Louis U. Battle in Third Game of Basket Series Tomorrow Night

The third and decisive game of the Washington U.-St. Louis U. basketball series will be played tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock in the Washington U. field house with both quintets lining up full strength combinations. The Billikens regular guards, Anderson and Joyce, who have headed Coach Regie's injured list, are reported in condition, and the Bear five, hard hit by gripe the past two weeks, is once more in trim.

The local university fives, with one victory each, are preparing for the third engagement. The Bears, fresh from Saturday's engagement with the Oklahoma Aggies, will bear detailed criticism this afternoon from Coach Don White, while Regie, who has practiced his combination since Thursday for the contest, will wind up preparations with an easy session.

The Bears will be slight favorites by virtue of the scores registered in the two games. After taking a defeat from the Billikens early in the season, 37-26, the Washington five returned a 40-31 victory. The second game, played in the field house, drew the record crowd of the local season, when nearly 7000 fans packed the stands, aisles and running track to witness the game.

The Bears will officially conclude their cage season tomorrow night, but the Billikens will meet an alumni combination in the St. Louis U. gym, Monday night. The quintet to oppose the Billikens in their final game will have the Bradburn brothers, Munny League stars, at the forward positions.

Defensive play may feature tomorrow's encounter, statements from both camps indicate. The Billikens apply themselves in the main to a zone defense, while White's men are used only for five-man pursuit. In the last encounter, the Bear guards batted down the Billikens' tosses with such telling effect that only one field goal was scored by them in the second half.

KANSAS CITY, March 12.—Winding up the Missouri Valley conference basketball schedule, the heaviest in history, the Oklahoma Aggies Saturday night, in defeating Washington, clinched third place with 11 games won, seven lost. Missouri the night before had definitely clinched second place by defeating the Aggies, with but five defeats in 18 starts, while the undefeated University of Oklahoma team clinched first place a week ago, winning its first conference title in history, and its last, as the Oklahoma team has withdrawn along with the other major schools from the Missouri Valley conference, effective in June.

Kansas, six times Valley champion in succession, dropped to fourth place with an even break. Defeat for Washington shoved them into a fifth place tie with the Kansas Aggies with eight games won and 10 lost each, thus completing the first division.

The powerful Oklahoma team was one of the strongest offensive aggregations in conference history. The Sooners had an offensive average of 39 points per game, as against average offensive strength of their opponents of 27 points per game.

Missouri was an unusually strong offensive team as well as were the Oklahoma Aggies. Both showed an average strength of 37 points per game. Missouri's opponents, however, average 30 points per game, while the Aggies' opponents did even less than that.

Individual Scoring Heavy.

Ninety conference games were played, the season opening in mid-December. A total of 5700 points were recorded.

Sooners Also Lead at Scoring.
Individual scoring honors, as well as the Valley basketball title today rested with Oklahoma. The unofficial figures show that in assisting his team in 18 straight victories, Yunker held the center, beat out Yunker of Missouri by three points. Holt was credited with 222 points, Yunker had 219 and Ab Wright of the Oklahoma Aggies won 212.

Six Counties at Boys' Conference. MURPHYSBORO, Ill., March 12.—Six Southern Illinois counties are to be represented at the Older Boys' Conference to be held here March 23, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and the Murphysboro HI-Y Club. R. A. Waite of Kan-tilson, Union, Johnson, Jackson, Alexander and Pulaski.

one of the principal speakers on the program. Counties to be represented at the conference are: Williamson, Union, Johnson, Jackson, Alexander and Pulaski.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—The Centertown Bank of Centertown, 15 miles west of Jefferson City, was closed today by the Board of Directors who turned the bank over to the State Finance Department. It is the only bank in the town. Commissioner Cantley said the failure apparently was due to "frozen" loans.

The bank's last statement showed deposits of $102,208, loans of $125,222, and bills payable of $23,800. The capital stock is $20,000 and the surplus $4000. The total resources are $150,428.

Joseph N. Smith, former cashier of the bank, was shot and killed in March, 1925, in a reported attempted holdup of the bank. There were no witnesses. Signs of a struggle were found in the banking rooms and nearly $1000 in currency was scattered about. A like sum was reported missing. A suit on Smith's bond as cashier was pending in the courts. B. W. Lansdown of Jefferson City, president of the bank, died here several weeks ago.

$75,000,000 RELIEF FUND FOR CHILDREN IS PROPOSED

Congress Gets Bills Providing for Care of Minor Dependents of Strikers and Unemployed.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Both Senate and House received proposals today for the creation of a Federal Child Relief Board with a fund of $75,000,000 to take care of children of the unemployed, destitute farmers and striking miners. The measure was offered in the Senate by Wheeler (Dem.), Montana, and prepared in the House by La Guardia (Rep.), New York.

Wheeler said his bill was intended expressly to administer "relief for children in prolonged strikes such as those in the bituminous coal mines, children of the unemployed and of other parents in extreme poverty including children of farmers in distressed agricultural areas."

The Board would be composed of the Secretaries of Labor and Agriculture, and the chief of the Children's Bureau of the Labor Department.

CONVICT WHO GAVE HIS BLOOD TO DYING BOY GETS PAROLE

North Carolina Governor Frees Wife Deserter on Plea of Citizens.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 12.—A quart of his blood, given in a vain effort to save the life of a dying boy, has won Homer Riley his freedom from the State prison's chain gang. Gov. McLean, acting on a petition signed by many citizens of North Carolina, has granted Riley a parole.

Alvin Cothran, 14 years old, was stabbed on Christmas eve while trying to defend his mother from a man who had broken into their home. Riley offered his blood for transfusion. Despite his generosity Alvin died.

The case attracted wide attention and a number of jobs were offered to Riley. He had been sentenced to two years on the chain gang for abandoning his wife but now has promised to support her.

LAND VALUATION FACTOR IN PLEA FOR 8-CENT FARE

they valued the abutting land as for private purposes and not as for trolley line use. The city objected to the method employed, maintaining that it gave the right-of-way a reality a series of back lots without street frontage—the same value as street frontages. Consulting engineers for the city, in making the appraisal for the city's claim of lower right-of-way valuation, followed a similar general method, in using typical lots in zones, but insisted they were more careful in selecting lots of representative size and more painstaking in their calculations and search for records of sales and other data in determining market value of abutting land.

Two Conflicting Views. Until about a year ago, trolley rights-of-way were assessed by the city for taxation purposes, but since then they have been assessed by the State Board of Equalization. City Assessor Gehner, asked by the Post-Dispatch what method he would follow in assessing rights-of-way if that should become his duty, said:

"I would use the square-foot basis, but cannot tell how I would arrive at value per square foot, as I would have to call in experts. However, I believe a right-of-way probably would be worth more than the street frontage of abutting property, because of the value put in the right-of-way by the character of its use. If the right-of-way were nothing but detached back lots, of course the property would be worth less than the street frontage, but its use for a car line probably makes it worth more."

City Counselor Muench disputed this view of appraisal of the real estate value of a right-of-way, saying it was at direct variance with the rule laid down by the Supreme Court of the United States about two years ago in Minnesota rate cases. That rule, which is followed generally now, in effect, he said, makes value of right-of-way land its fair market value as so much earth, without the addition of hypothetical costs like going value for presence of tracks on which cars can run. The measure, he added, is the fair average of the normal market value of land in the vicinity having a similar character. The city's practice in assessing a back lot, that is, land with alley or right-of-way frontage rather than street frontage, is to give it a lower valuation than the adjacent property fronting on a street. There are numerous instances on the Assessor's plats of alley or right-of-way frontage lots with lower valuations than on the street frontage.

One such instance is furnished in the block fronting on Hodiament avenue, midway between Easton and Wells avenues. The back of the block abuts the private right-of-way of the Hodiament car line. The Public Service Co. owns an unimproved lot fronting on its tracks for 60 feet, 24 feet deep. This is assessed for $150, or 10 cents per square foot. Between this lot and Hodiament avenue are two lots of 30-foot frontage and average depth of about 170 feet, occupied by stores and facing the street. Average assessment of these lots is 33 and 39 cents per square foot, respectively, on the basis of $50 per front foot.

there was nothing so good for congestion and colds as mustard. But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered.

Musterole gives the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Gently rub it in. See how quickly the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

Don't Risk Neglect!

Your Kidneys Are Literally Sentinels of Your Health. To Be Well See That They Function Properly.

YOUR kidneys! Do you realize what an important part they play in your bodily health and length of life? To be well the kidneys must thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous waste. Sluggish kidneys permit waste impurities to remain in the blood and cause slow poisoning of the system.

One is apt to feel tired and drowsy—to have a dull, nagging backache and annoying headaches and dizzy spells.

Assist the kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's increase the secretion of the kidneys and thus assist in the removal of the poisons of bodily waste. Are endorsed from coast to coast. Ask your neighbor!

SEATTLE GIRL TO JOIN HINDUISM TOMORROW

Nancy Miller to Go Through Ceremony to Wed Former Prince, Saturday.

By the Associated Press
NASIK, India, March 12.—Amid the shrines and temples of this ancient holy city, Miss Nancy Ann Miller of Seattle, Wash., tomorrow will become a Hindu, so that she may wed a former Maharajah, through the purification ceremony, her conversion from Christianity. After it she will go to Darya Mahal, near Barwaha, where on Saturday she will become the third wife of Tukoji Rao, former Maharajah of Indore.

The religious ritual will begin at sunrise at Gangapur, on the banks of the Godavari, five miles from Nasik. Generally, if there is no sun, there is no ceremony.

Shuddi, as the purification ceremony is called, is begun by building a fire of coals, known as "ragani" in the middle of the room, and pouring of incense upon the fuel until the room is cloudy with its smoke. Then the chanting of Hindu priests begins and for more than two hours it continues as they invoke the blessing of the Hindu Trinity—Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva—upon the initiate.

In the middle of the ceremony the neophyte will be handed a glass of holy water which she must drink. She must wear the Hindu woman's flowing garb. Her participation in the ceremony is accepted as evidence of the fact that she believes in the religion.

In the evening there will be a general ceremony. While plans for the conversion continued, the controversy over it raged hotly among the Hindus. The orthodox Brahmins contend it is a absolute farce, since only those born Hindus can hold the Hindu faith.

At the wedding Saturday the customary marriage procession will be omitted. The program provides for lavish festivities and illuminations at Tukoji Rao's estate, in the middle of a small jungle.

Arrangements have been made to film the initiation ceremony, and many Europeans are clamoring for tickets for the evening ceremony, to which admission will be limited.

MARIE PREVOST AT ST. LOUIS

Wears a Wig in Film, "Blonde for a Night."
When Anita Loos wrote "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," she started a debate. The result was a flood of pictures and stories based on variations of the opinion she expressed. "A Blonde for a Night," in which Marie Prevost and Harrison Ford have the principal parts in the St. Louis Theater film feature this week, is one of these. It is a story of a brunette bride who quarrels with her husband on their honeymoon, and parts from him, then disguises herself in a blonde wig and vamps him back. The frolicsome Marie breaks precedent by not appearing in a bathing suit but a trifling accident at a mo-

Home Trains Children for Life's Work

THE home is the training school of life, Mrs. A. H. Reeve, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, told the National Education Association at Boston.

Its entrance requirements, she said, are twofold: knowledge of how to operate a home and how to live in it.

This training, she added, must supply "personal, social and commercial qualifications."

"Among personal requirements may be classed sound mental and physical health, adaptability and a broad tolerance," said Mrs. Reeve. "Youth should be made to see itself, not as the center of its own universe but as a link in an endless chain. The social qualifications must include the wider relationships of the community and adjustment to the larger environment."

"The third essential is commercial training for homemaking is a business partnership—and thriftlessness is the reef on which many homes are wrecked. Rarely does a youth leave high school or college with any understanding of the cost of living, the salary necessary for the support of wife and children, the keeping of household accounts and the dividing and budgeting of an income. Yet he usually enters this partnership as soon as he goes into an, other business."

"To make the preparation for home entrance effective a simultaneous attack must be made at four points: The school system; domestic science methods; teacher training classes; the home today. The school must differentiate between essentials and non-essentials, teaching all children what they must know in order to meet life and specializing on the things needed by a few. Domestic science must continue to teach the concrete but must not leave the abstract untought, for the home must have spirit as well as mind and body."

Alfred F. Whitman, executive secretary of the Children's Aid Society of Boston, declared that schools can go far in correcting serious delinquency among children.

"Juvenile delinquency," he said, "sometimes has its roots in such matters as inadequate curricula and defective vision, which are not unrelated to disorder in the school, and not far from delinquency, which in turn seems to be the harbinger of everything that results in later delinquency and crime."

"Because of their universal contacts with all our children, the schools offer the greatest opportunity for the early discovery and treatment of incipient difficulties which may later prove most disastrous."

Household Hints

The water drinking habit means a clear complexion.

A damp woolen cloth will gather up the broken bits of glass with ease.

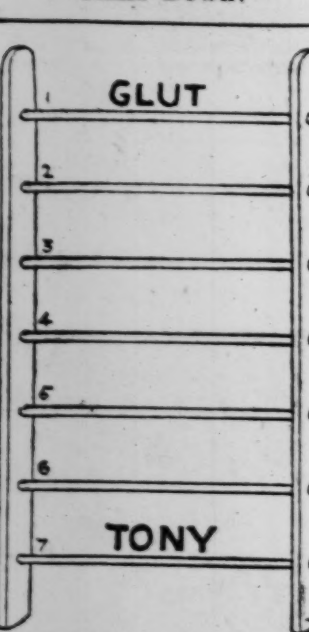

One quart of carbonic acid to 20 parts of water is a solution that is guaranteed not to burn.

Leather gloves should be washed thoroughly and then rinsed in lukewarm soapy water. The skins will always dry soft if this is done.

One housewife always cuts her bread and cake through the center of loaf and serves the middle slices from each side first. She then presses the two cut ends closely together and she never has a dry slice of bread.

By Gettier Girls Pay for European Trip With Pictures

ARTISTS of ancient days who roamed the world, painting when inspiration and subjects presented themselves, have their modern counterparts in the Alabama women who have just completed a journey over Europe and Africa, where they preserved their impressions on canvas.

After reaching Paris, the party, headed by Miss Carrie Hill, who has won distinction in American art circles, set out in an automobile. Several weeks were spent in Espalion, a month in Corsica and another month in Tunis, while they spent less time wandering about other sections of Europe and Northern Africa.

Whenever subjects were found, the artists stopped, out came easels and other implements and there they remained until the work was finished. Naturally, the journey brought a wide variety of subjects.

Among the dozens of paintings, which have been on exhibition here, are those of mosques, mountains, the deserts of Africa and the brown-skinned women of Tunis. The old fifteenth century houses of Espalion, the tumble-down edifices, the ruins of Venice and the great cathedral of Milan are among numerous others reproduced.

With Miss Hill were Alice Rumph, Sylvia Pizitz, Willie McLaughlin and Della Dryer. They all agree that following the European tour, they are more interested in the studio. They also find, Miss Hill says, that what interested them in their travels also interested others, for the demand for the pictures has made the trip profitable.

Modernism in Lingerie. Modernism has invaded the realm of lingerie. Milanese underthings are being shown with angular insets and apiques in darker tones, and are made in nile, peach and orchid, in vests and bloomer sets. These are really quite striking and attractive.

When They Begin to Crawl

—the tiny garments rather many of them are made in nile, peach and orchid, in vests and bloomer sets. These are really quite striking and attractive.

MAISON DOUCET DECLARES WAR AGAINST MONOTONY IN MODE

Paris House Is Convinced That Women of Fashion Are Ready to Return to the Standards of Elegance That Were Formerly Prevalent.

From MAISON DOUCET.

PARIS.

WE ARE making a definite stand against the monotony that has afflicted the mode during past seasons in the last collection shown before this house becomes known as Doucet-Doucet, when M. Doucet, whose prestige has been famous in the Place Vendôme for many years, joins forces with our house in the Rue de la Paix.

The leading color in our collection this spring is mauve, in all shades from palest parma violet to deep lilac. This color has been selected for several seasons past, and in our opinion it is one of the most becoming and suitable for a summer wardrobe. It lends itself well to the principle of greater elaboration, which will be a characteristic of the dresses made by the house of Doucet during the coming months.

Our clients, as is well known, include many of the women whose taste and elegance have created a special place for them in the realm of fashion. These women are tired of the monotony that has stagnated several seasons past. They wish to return to the standards of elegance that were prevalent before the war.

THE tradition of this house has always been the creation of elegant and ennobling that is essentially Parisian in character. We intend in the future, with the collaboration of M. Doucet, to maintain this tradition on a wider scale and thus endeavor to make it possible for many women to whom, hitherto, dresses from the Rue de la Paix have been only a dream to come to us and have the actual models made to measure.

It has long been a Doucet standard to create special models for certain clients to wear on special occasions. Nothing is more inspiring to a dress designer than to be told by a very smart woman that Mme. Telle is giving a ball, a reception or a garden party on a certain date and that she requires a gown for the occasion. He immediately visualizes the gathering. His client's taste and individuality are already known to him. He knows the work on the gown that seems to him the perfect medium to bring out all her good points. He is always willing to fall in with ideas and modifications suggested by his client, for a clever woman, accustomed to dressing well, can give suggestions that are of value to the most experienced designer. It is the different point of view that helps so much.

THE Parisienne or the foreigner who has lived in Paris long enough to become Parisian by adoption has a special flair for dress. She may not be able to design models herself, but she knows enough to suggest details in a manner that brings about the happiest results when she is dressed by a really great house. When we have created a model in this manner that has been worn with success by one of our most elegant clients we introduce it into the collection. We know that women of less experience may profit by the collaboration. Our smartest clients maintain the Parisian tradition of dressing very simply in the morning. This is as it should be, and we have nothing to say against such a fashion. They agree with us, however, that for luncheon and afternoon parties the uniform dress that is known as "sport" is out of place and contrary to the laws of elegance. We still keep simplicity of line, for the keynote of modern fashion is to show the lines of the figure when they are beautiful. We no longer seek to conceal or disguise them. Nothing could be more beautiful than the simple lines of a Greek tunic. Many modern gowns are a modification of this. But for the afternoon we introduce an elaboration of cut and trimmings. Without this it is not worth while to buy a Paris gown.

WHILE bearing in mind the technique that follows the natural silhouette, it is possible to introduce endless variety—a neck line that is modified to suit the individual client, originality in that distinguishes a Rue de la Paix model from a gown made by a "little dressmaker." Fullness in the skirt that allows freedom of movement and is yet cleverly arranged so that the lines in repose retain that sturdiness all women desire to achieve.

The afternoon ensemble takes a definite place in the spring collection. Smart women have accepted the fact that to be really chic the wrap that is worn in the afternoon must be made to match or harmonize with the dress it accompanies. With the increasing feminine tendency of fashion, this means that the wrap for the afternoon is no longer a la page as it was in the spring of 1927. It has a subtle flare. Sometimes its hem line is irregular, to follow the line of the dress over which it is worn. This is one of the natural evolutions of the mode that prevailed in the winter. While we had dresses that dipped at the side, the hem line of most of our coats was straight. This was not really elegant, as it showed two conflicting tendencies. You will see

Maggie effects are very smart and Doucet has used white georgette embroidered with diamonds for this evening gown with a black scarf from the shoulder and black skirt with full circular godets in front.

A simple morning gown of crepe marocain in the new exotique shade. The skirt is cut up onto the hips in a movement that forms a godet. The neck, front and sleeves are finished with embroidery forming a gale.

Doucet's interpretation of the elaborate afternoon gown is carried out in black chiffon trimmed with crepe lace. The skirt is covered with panels cut in forme with long points that give the irregular hemline.

The chic of black satin is demonstrated in this afternoon gown which has a bolero movement on forme on one side which is repeated by the drapery of the skirt on other. Bands decorate neck, waist and cuffs.

The new fullness which is characteristic of this season is shown in the form of pointed godets in this frock of parma violet georgette. The corsage and sleeves are trimmed with applique of crepe satin to match.

Green cloth is used for this afternoon coat, which has an original arrangement of flat pointed flounces on the hips. It has a shawl collar and cuffs of nutria and is lined with printed crepe de chine to match its dress.

an appreciation and correction of this fact during the spring.

FOR the evening there is infinite variety. Every taste and need is catered for, from the simple dinner frock, sleeveless, but with a slightly décolleté neck that can be worn with a hat for dinner in a quiet resort, to the elaborate embroidered or beaded gown for ceremonial occasions. This season shows a return to the really low-cut décolletage. There's often an asymmetrical silhouette. Gowns are made of every conceivable material, from the most diaphanous chiffon, tulle or lace to the stiffer and more formal fabrics, such as satin, moire, faille and taffeta that are rapidly finding their way to favor. As in the afternoon, many ensembles will be shown for the evening. A cloak to match the gown is the final touch of elegance, especially for spring and summer, when the alternative of a fur wrap is less often adopted, except in the case of ermine. For several seasons past a ruby red velvet cloak trimmed with dark fur has been a classic item of every woman's evening wardrobe. This season you will see a great many cloaks in every shade of mauve to accompany gowns of the same or a lighter shade that will be made in different materials. Yellow will again make its appearance. After many seasons of neglect women have come to realize the becoming qualities of this charming shade, which already found its way into the Doucet evening collection last season, and its success has tempted us to follow it up with new models in yellow for the spring.

It may interest our readers to learn that the alliance of the two houses of Doucet and Doucet is a step toward the introduction of new business methods into Parisian couture. We are borrowing something from American methods. Instead of competing with each other we are going to work together. The premises in the Rue de la Paix are being enlarged so that room may be found for the workers from both ateliers, but a considerable amount of overhead expenses will be shared by the two houses and thus diminished. We shall have only one rent to pay instead of two. One bookkeeping staff will deal with the accounts of both houses. So, in spite of an increased amount of business, our expenses will be cut down, and this is bound to react upon prices. We thus hope to put dresses from a first-class house of the Rue de la Paix, designed by the best modelists, made by first-rate workers, within the reach of women for whom such gowns have hitherto been a dream that seldom came true. (Copyright, 1928, Cosmos Newspaper Syndicate, Inc.)

ELINOR GLYN TELLS HOW TO WIN A MAN

By Elinor Glyn. (Eighteenth Article)

THE TRUTH ABOUT WHAT YOU SAY.

WHAT is that quality in people which makes an "uncomfortable" atmosphere around them? They seem to breathe aggressiveness. I saw a girl last week who was beautiful and young, with every physical charm—well educated and talented, yet the other girls told me they did not like her, and she spoiled every party. Not that she actually quarreled, or was spiteful or anything tangible—but she just wanted to contradict everyone and state her own very decided opinions. No subject could be started the day I met her, that she did not immediately go contrary to every one else, altering even facts in her eagerness to convince us all that she was right. She "riled" even a gentle young college boy who had thought her lovely to look at, to such an extent that he said to me afterwards, "Gee! I couldn't have kissed her for ten dollars!"

So, girls, do observe the effect you are producing, and cultivate your sensitive nerves so that you can appreciate when you are irritating people. Notice whether things are peaceful and pleasant around you or whether people seem to be drawn into arguments. Avoid subjects which others may not care to discuss, and never, never ram your own likes and dislikes down even the most docile admirer's throats! The loveliest face in the world has no charm with a hard knowing expression upon it—and tender and passionate desires are never aroused by ruffling the feelings and wounding the self love of your hearers. The less you talk of yourself, Millicent, and the more you listen to Johnnie talking of himself, the more perfect he will think you! For remember, articulate or inarticulate—arrogant or humble, every living being likes to receive sympathy and appreciation.

MATERNITY CENTER ADVISES THIS CARE OF BABY GARMENTS

Famous throughout the United States, the Maternity Center Association of New York teaches thousands of mothers the best methods of infant care.

At the Center, everything concerned with baby—clothes, blankets, bottles, toys—is washed in Lux. "Many soaps contain alkalis harmful to a baby's skin, if the soap remains in the garment," these experts say. "Analysis has shown that Lux contains no harmful alkali." "Lux is also a truly sanitary form of soap for use with a little baby's things. Unlike cake soap, the same Lux is never used twice." The makers of Lux take pride in making the tissue-thin Lux diamonds just a little purer and finer than anything else, so that baby's things, as well as mother's, are safely, easily washed in the instant, sparkling Lux suds.

BRITISH ACE HOPS
OFF ON WESTWARD
ATLANTIC FLIGHT

London Considers It Possible Capt. Walter Hinchliffe's Companion Is the Hon. Elsie Mackay.

U. S. REPORTED TO BE DESTINATION

Attempt to Span Ocean Is Being Made in an American-Built Plane, the "Adventure."

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, March 13.—Off on an attempt to conquer the Atlantic, Capt. Walter Hinchliffe, one of England's brilliant airmen, sped from the Cranwell airfield at 8:40 o'clock this morning in his American-built plane, "The Adventure."

The mystery that attached to the take-off, which was made with the utmost secrecy, was further complicated by the presence of a mysterious passenger that may possibly have been the Honorable Elsie Mackay, daughter of Lord Inchcape.

Although first reports said that Capt. Gordon Sinclair, a reserve pilot, was in the plane, there was no positive confirmation of his presence.

When plans for the Atlantic flight were first announced, it was reported that Miss Mackay, who has subsidized the project financially, would make the trip, but she promptly disclaimed any intention of doing so.

Inquiries at Miss Mackay's home this evening, however, failed to elicit any information concerning her whereabouts. A plane believed to be "The Adventure" was reported to have been seen flying in a westerly direction.

The Evening News says that before leaving Cranwell, Capt. Hinchliffe left the following message: "I am starting out from Cranwell on an attempt to fly the Atlantic."

At 1:30 in the afternoon an airplane was reported passing over Mizenhead, a cape of Southern Ireland, County Cork, a little more than 400 miles from Cranwell. The "Adventure" had sufficient fuel aboard for at least a 3000-mile journey, and prior to his start Capt. Hinchliffe had made inquiries regarding atmospheric conditions on the Atlantic. He had been informed by the Meteorological Office that ocean conditions were fairly good.

The plane is a stock model Stinson-Detroiter monoplane, with a Wright Whirlwind motor and may be distinguished by its shining gold wing. It has dual control. (Miss Mackay is a licensed pilot.)

The plane weighs 1970 pounds empty, has a span of 45 feet, 10 inches; is 32 feet long and has 232 square feet of wing area.

Capt. Hinchliffe, who is one of the most picturesque airmen in Great Britain, acted as pilot for Charles A. Levine while the latter was in Europe last summer with his trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia.

Hinchliffe lost an eye during the World War, but has seven enemy planes logged to his credit in the War Department files. He is known as a "storm wizard," flying much by natural instinct.

He started at 8:40 a. m. London time, which is 2:40 a. m. Eastern standard time. The northern route of the great circle course, the most probable for him to follow, has a sweep of nearly 3500 miles from the English coast to New York. The Adventure should make an average speed of almost 100 miles an hour. On that basis, the Cape Race light on the southeastern outpost of Newfoundland may give the daring Briton his first American bearing at about 5 a. m. tomorrow, Eastern time.

Weather Declared Favorable for This Time of Year.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 13.—Lieut. F. W. Reichelderfer, aerologist in the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics, said today that if Walter G. P. Hinchliffe is flying westward across the Atlantic he will encounter the most favorable weather he would expect at this season of the year.
